A MESSAGE FROM THE ARTISTIC DIRECTOR

Passion is the driving force behind all that we do here at Florida International University Theatre. As distinguished faculty, we are outstanding theatre artists and teachers whose curiosity about the human condition leads us to CREATE. INNOVATE. INSPIRE.

We create, innovate, and inspire as exemplary collaborators dedicated to quality in service of the needs of our wonderful students and members of the community at large. We are also risk-takers, challenging conventions in an attempt to best educate our students and to illuminate the joy and struggle of humanity through dynamic, dramatic storytelling for our audience. And we practice master director Sir Peter Brook's two rules of the stage:

ANYTHING CAN HAPPEN & SOMETHING MUST HAPPEN

There is no theatre without you, our audience. Thank you for your support.

NOTES FROM THE DIRECTOR

Dead Man’s Cell Phone is a surrealistic comedy that addresses the theme that we are losing human connection because we have become obsessed with technology. Sarah Ruhl takes us on a quirky journey down the rabbit hole to express this premise to us. I hope you have fun with Jean as she encounters many events that allow us to look more closely at our current disengagement from each other. Who knows, perhaps you might be tempted to chat with each other, rather than text or use your cell at intermission? Enjoy!

Study Theatre Abroad in Summer 2016!

CREATING DEVISED THEATRE: SPAIN

Students will meet in Bilbao, Spain and travel together to the Palacio de Manso Zuniga in La Rioja. Over the course of three weeks, students will research and gather materials by interviewing pilgrims in the midst of their journey. Students will work on shaping their material into a play. At the end of the program, students will present their plays to the local communities.
