Florida International University

Miami's public research university

FIU Alma Mater

*by Dr. Clair T. McElfresh
Rededicated on November 3, 1988 • Orchestration by Dr. Philip Fink*

Hail to thee dear FIU with voices true we pledge to thee.

All our love and our devotion.

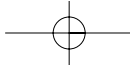

Humble faith and loyalty.

We will strive for understanding and for peace and unity.

We will search for truth and wisdom.

We will always honor thee.

FIU Alma Mater Hail! Hail to Thee.

FLORIDA INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY

Florida International University is one of the nation's leading urban, public institutions of higher learning and one of the region's most vital educational assets. Since 1972, when FIU opened its doors as South Florida's first public university, the university has built a widespread reputation for the excellence of its teaching and research programs.

The university has a nationally celebrated faculty, students from throughout the United States and more than 130 foreign countries, and alumni who have risen to prominence in every field. The university takes full advantage of its location in Miami, which serves as a "living laboratory" for many of its programs and offers unparalleled internship and job opportunities. As a major university located in one of the nation's great cities, FIU offers a rare combination of vast resources, personal attention and affordability.

The university offers more than 200 baccalaureate, master's, doctoral and specialist degree programs in 24 colleges and schools: Accounting; Architecture; Architecture and the Arts; Art and Art History; Arts and Sciences; Business Administration; Chapman Graduate School of Business; Computing and Information Sciences; Continuing and Professional Studies; Education; Criminal Justice; Engineering and Computing; Medicine; Honors College; Hospitality and Tourism Management; Journalism and Mass Communication; Law; Music; Nursing and Health Sciences; Public Administration; Social Work, Justice and Public Affairs; Stempel School of Public Health; Theatre, Dance and Speech Communication; and University Graduate School.

In March 2006, FIU received approval from the Florida Board of Governors to create a College of Medicine. In establishing South Florida's only public medical school, the university is continuing its tradition of addressing pressing community challenges. The FIU College of Medicine will transform medical education and health care in the region and greatly enhance the university's research endeavors.

FIU has more than 37,000 students, 1,000 full-time faculty, and 115,000 alumni, making it the largest university in South Florida. The university has two campuses — University Park in western Miami-Dade County and the Biscayne Bay Campus in northeast Miami-Dade County — and the FIU Broward-Pines Center, an academic facility in nearby Broward County. The 40-acre Engineering Center, a major research facility, is located near University Park.

Honorary Degree

Cristina Saralegui
Doctor of Public Service

Cristina Saralegui is a 30-year veteran journalist who is recognized as one of the most influential role models for today's Hispanic women.

In 1989, the Cuban native made her television debut as host and executive producer of "The Cristina Show" on Univision. Seventeen years and 4,000 shows later, "The Cristina Show" is still the top-rated U.S.-produced program on Spanish-language television. In addition to the United States, the show airs throughout Latin America and in Europe with an estimated worldwide audience of 100 million.

In August 2005, Saralegui was named one of the "25 Most Influential Hispanics in America" by Time magazine. Later that year, the 11-time Emmy award winner became the first Latina inducted into the Broadcasting & Cable Hall of Fame, where she joined such television legends as Walter Cronkite, Barbara Walters and Johnny Carson.

An engaged social activist, Saralegui and Elizabeth Taylor together have addressed the United Nations on the subject of AIDS research and education, one of the many causes about which she is passionate. She is the recipient of numerous honors such as the Foundation of American Women in Radio and Television's "Gracie Allen Tribute Award," The Simon Weisenthal Center's 2004 "International Distinguished Achievement Award" and The Hispanic Heritage Foundation's "Arts Award."

An astute businesswoman, Saralegui has built a media empire with the help of her husband and manager Marcos Avila.

FIU Medallion ~ Outstanding Alumni

Larry Schokman '80
Alumnus

Larry Schokman is the director of the Kampong of the National Tropical Botanical Garden. One of the most culturally important sites in the South, the Kampong is on the National List of Historic Places and is home to the oldest structure in Miami-Dade County still on its original foundation.

Under Schokman's directorship, the Kampong has retained its character even as it has expanded its mission to serve as an important horticultural and educational institution. A native of Sri Lanka and a former manager of one of Sri Lanka's most respected tea plantations, Schokman has developed and introduced new tree varieties into the Miami landscape and novel horticultural practices that help those varieties flourish in our climate.

Since his arrival in Miami in 1973, Schokman has led the charge to promote beautification in the county through the use of colorful tropical trees and shrubs in the landscape. He has served on the Board of Directors of the Tropical Flowering Tree Society since its beginning. He has also served on the boards of other organizations promoting the planting of our public landscapes in South Florida: TREE-mendous Miami, Friends of Chapman Field-USDA, Rare Fruit Council International, Trees for Dade, and the City of Miami Committee on Environment and Beautification, among others. For 15 years, he was chairman of the Royal Poinciana Fiesta Workshop.

Schokman graduated from FIU with honors in 1980 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Environmental Studies.

Cal Kovens Community Service Medallion

Pete Martinez
Community Service

A 31-year veteran of the information technology industry, Pete Martinez is vice president of IBM Global Business Services and senior location executive for IBM South Florida. From serving in a leadership position in IBM's original PC business to pioneering electronic services on the Internet and creating e-business consulting, Martinez has been an innovator of business and technology.

In his current position, Martinez leads a 1,700-person organization comprised of consultants, hardware and software developers, industry specialists and sales leaders. Recently, he has been a pioneer of innovative projects in the areas of advanced research, supercomputing and information-based medicine. Martinez is leading the IBM University Consortium "LA Grid" (Latin America Grid), a comprehensive computing grid to link faculty, students and researchers from institutions across the United States, Latin America and Spain to collaborate on complex industry applications for business and societal needs. He was instrumental in the establishment of the global research initiative "Project Checkmate," a project focused on developing the means to anticipate, manage and contain pandemic infectious diseases.

Possessing a clear vision and understanding of technology as a means to serve humanity, Martinez is an engaged member of our community and is chairman-elect of the Florida Research Consortium. He serves on the Board of Directors of Bio Florida, iCoast and the Caridad Center. He is also a member of advisory boards at Florida International University, the University of Miami and Florida Atlantic University.

A visiting professor at FIU, Pete Martinez holds a Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering from the University of Miami. In 2002, he was awarded "Engineer of the Year" honors by the Association of Cuban Engineers, and, in 2004, he was inducted into the Miami-Dade College Hall of Fame.

FIU Medallion ~ Outstanding Alumni

Nicholas Bustle '88
Alumnus

Nicholas G. Bustle is SunTrust Bank city president for Miami-Dade County. He also serves as business manager for SunTrust Bank's wealth and investment management line for the South Florida region. In these roles, Bustle is responsible for coordinating SunTrust's overall banking operations in Miami-Dade County and the personal-wealth management activities of the bank in seven South Florida counties. He has served in a variety of positions with SunTrust throughout his more than 18 years with the bank.

Active in numerous community-service endeavors, Bustle serves on the Executive Committee of the Beacon Council and the Advisory Board of Our Lady of Lourdes Academy. Additionally, he serves on the Board of Directors of the Greater Miami Chamber of Commerce, the Jackson Memorial Foundation and the Community Partnership for Homeless.

Bustle graduated from the University of Wisconsin-Platteville with a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration. He later earned a Master of Science degree in International Business from Florida International University. He and his wife Xenia live in Palmetto Bay with their three daughters.

Cal Kovens Distinguished Community Service Medallion

Alvaro G. de Molina
Community Service

Alvaro G. de Molina is chief financial officer (CFO) for Bank of America and a member of the bank's Risk & Capital Committee and Management Operating Committee. As CFO, he has responsibility for finance, corporate treasury, corporate investments and investor relations.

Prior to this appointment, de Molina was chief executive officer of Bank of America Securities where he led the markets and products aspects of Global Corporate & Investment Banking. In that capacity, he oversaw investor-client coverage; equity and debt capital-raising, sales and trading; credit services; and risk management products and services.

De Molina presently serves on the Board of Visitors of Duke University Fuqua School of Business, the Dean's Council at Florida International University's College of Business Administration and the Board of Directors of the Financial Services Volunteer Corps. He chairs the bank's internal Diversity Advisory Council, serves on the board of the Bank of America Charitable Foundation and is the 2006 Bank of America United Way campaign chair.

A native of Cuba, de Molina emigrated to the United States in 1960. He earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Accounting from Fairleigh Dickinson University and an MBA from Rutgers University. He is also a graduate of the Duke University Advanced Management Program.

THE COMMENCEMENT:

An Academic Tradition

Michael J. Wagner, Ph.D., Retired Professor of Music Education

At every academic institution, commencement exercises are the high point of the calendar. Since the purpose of a college or university is to prepare its students to merit the conferral of an academic degree, the commencement ceremony serves as the instrument for exhibiting the success of both the university and its students in fulfilling this primary goal. The rites involved in the celebration of commencement stem from civilization's earliest times. In fact, the very word, commencement, means a beginning. If you are familiar with the trappings of this grand ceremony, you are aware that the traditions carried forth from medieval days are revealed in all of their pomp, color and symbolism. It is a celebration of new beginnings. For participants and observers alike, commencement is meant to be both self-serving and an emotional experience.

The Chain of Office

President Maidique personifies the university at the FIU Commencement. He is the ceremony's convener and chief presider, and he displays a great chain, which is the FIU chain of office. This ancient symbol is perhaps the most beautiful and artistic of any of the accoutrements of the ceremony. During the Renaissance, holders of very high office sometimes wore a chain as a symbol of their authority. FIU's chain is made of sterling silver and its designs are cast, cut and etched. The center medallion represents the world and is surrounded by sea shells cast from an actual shell. Reflecting the university and the South Florida area are the eight ovals which make up the chain. Each link is connected by a shell motif and exemplifies a specific entity: 1) the University Park tower, 2) the Vrana sculpture over the entrance of Primera Casa, and 3) the Torch of Friendship. The others represent the five original schools in the FIU community: Arts and Sciences, Business, Education, Hospitality Management, and Engineering. Inscribed upon four of the medallions are the names and dates of tenure of FIU presidents — Charles Perry, Harold Crosby, Gregory Wolfe, Modesto A. Maidique. The chain was designed by Dr. Clem Pennington, associate professor of art education, now retired, and executed in 1977 by Leo Shirker, a Miami goldsmith, art teacher and FIU alumnus.

The Mace

The Grand Marshal carries a ceremonial club called a mace. In antiquity, when an official of high rank went out in public, a mace-bearer was assigned to accompany him in order to literally beat away those who got close enough to try to petition the favors of the official. Today, the bearing of the university's mace is ceremonial in nature, signifying the authority and authenticity of those who are to follow. FIU's Pennington Mace is hand-crafted from Haitian mahogany and was also designed by Dr. Clem Pennington, in 1976.

Music

Music plays an important role in the commencement experience. The commencement procession begins with the playing of Aaron Copland's Fanfare for the Common Man. It is followed by the traditional and familiar Pomp and Circumstance March #1, by Sir Edward Elgar. This march, one of a set of five Pomp and Circumstance marches by Elgar, is traditionally played at commencement ceremonies throughout the United States, and many places around the world. It has come to symbolize the commencement experience. After the processional, and after the academic body is assembled, our national anthem, The Star Spangled Banner, is played.

After the national anthem, the FIU Alma Mater is played. This piece of FIU symbolism was composed by Clair McElfresh of the FIU Music faculty, former dean of undergraduate studies, and now retired.

Marshals

The leader of the academic procession is the Grand Marshal. At FIU, this prestigious honor goes to the chairperson of the Faculty Senate (the university's governing body for academic matters). You will notice that as the Grand Marshal processes, the mace (a formidable weapon) is held at port arms, the ready position for quick protection. Faculty and student marshals have been elected to lead candidates for graduation from each of the university's schools and colleges.

The Dais Party

The Dais Party is also known as the Platform Party. This group is composed of the university's administrative leaders and very special guests. The Dais Party enters the hall before the faculty and proceeds directly to stage. At the end of the processional, the Grand Marshal declares the proceedings open, and the ceremony moves forward.

Academic Regalia

The tradition of wearing distinctive academic attire at commencement ceremonies originated in Europe in the twelfth century. However, gowns and capes had been worn by clerics and ecclesiastics even before that date. A heavy black or brown gown was apparently worn at all times. Hoods and capes were also a necessity during the long, cold European winters because the buildings in which scholars lived, studied and taught were cold and drafty. When not being used to provide warmth, hoods and baggy sleeves served the same purpose as do today's pockets. Often a crust of bread or some cheese were tucked away in them for sustenance on a long journey. The academic costume at English universities (from which many of our American commencement traditions originate) can be traced as far back as the middle of the fourteenth century, to the time when scholars were rebuked that a decent habit was to be worn (Statutes of Peterhouse, 1344). This document further prescribed the code of dress for university teachers of that era. In a 1432 statute, students and even doctors of theology were restricted to bunge and sad-colored habits. The robes of master were to be flowing and reach the ankles. In an order dated 1358, tailors were admonished not to stint the robes, which should be argae et talares, because clerks (of whom scholars were one type) should be distinguished from the laity. A few universities still require students and faculty to wear a short gown both on and off the university campus. Oxford, Cambridge and some Scottish universities maintain this custom. The faculties of American universities have worn academic garb for commencement ceremonies since the beginning of the system. For almost 250 years, each university chose its own costume until it was realized that in 1896 an event unique in history would be taking place. This was the simultaneous celebrations of the 250th anniversary of Harvard University and the 500th anniversary of Heidelberg University. Because of this unique circumstance, the Intercollegiate Bureau of Academic Costume was opened in 1895 to record the distinctive colors of institutions, their arrangement, the particulars of gowns, hoods and caps, as well as information pertaining to academic ceremonies. At that time, an American code of academic dress was agreed upon. With few modifications, it is still with us today.

Gowns

Academic gowns of today are most easily identified by the distinctive style of their sleeves. The bachelor's gown is worn closed and its sleeves are long, open and pointed. The master's gown can be worn either open or closed, and has long distinctive sleeves which are closed, with a slit near the elbow to free the hand and forearm. These pointed sleeves hang down from the elbow to below the hand. The doctor's gown can be worn either opened or closed, and has five inches of velvet trim down both front edges, and three velvet chevrons on each sleeve. The velvet trim may be either black or the color of the discipline in which the degree is granted. The sleeves are closed and bloused.

Hoods

Probably the greatest degree of symbolism is expressed with the academic hood. Those who hold bachelor's degrees and participate in commencement sometimes wear a hood. Candidates for the bachelor's degree do not. The bachelor's hood is black and is three-feet long, with a two-inch velvet border in the color of discipline in which the degree is awarded. The master's hood is also of black material, and is three-and-one-half feet long with a three-inch velvet border in the color of the discipline. It is lined with the colors of the institution conferring the degree. The doctor's hood is four-feet long, has a five-inch velvet border in the the color of the discipline, and is lined with the colors of the institution granting the degree.

Caps

Traditionally, the Oxford style square cap is considered proper headdress. In recent times, however, it has become stylish to wear a soft cap of either square or octagonal shape. All graduates wear a tassel over the left side of the cap. Bachelor's and master's tassels may be black or the color of the academic discipline, while doctor's tassels are always gold.

These are by no means all of the styles or accoutrements worn as academic dress. Indeed, in South American, Spanish and Dutch universities, the academic attire can be likened to plumage. It is not uncommon to see brightly colored gowns adorned with ermine and other furs, flowing capes, and caps trimmed with beads or tassels. Some universities in South America even add Indian feathers to the headdress, in honor of the Inca Indians. At Florida International University, whose colors are blue and gold, the traditional colors of the disciplines are:

The Honors College

Graduates of The Honors College have had the opportunity to work with some of the University's most outstanding faculty members in a program best characterized by the term "diversity": diversity in the faculty, with representatives of a wide array of academic disciplines; diversity in students, counting among its membership individuals from 236 different foreign countries; and most importantly, diversity in academic experiences. The Honors College provides excellent students with an augmented liberal arts education that complements their studies in their majors and prepares them well to compete in the workplace or to pursue graduate or professional degrees after graduation.

Created as a program in 1990, the College has grown to include over 800 students and 45 faculty members in an exciting and challenging academic experience. The Honors College now provides a full range of opportunities and support activities for its students, including study abroad courses, special advising, summer research and internship programs, and service learning opportunities. At the heart of the College, however, are the seminars that make up the Honors College curriculum.

The Curriculum

The seminars are organized in a unique way that assures that an intellectual thread winds through the undergraduate experience of all students in the College regardless of the major they choose to pursue. Every semester Honors College students take an interdisciplinary honors seminar. Most are team-taught by three to five members of the honors faculty. The students and faculty members meet each week for large group lectures, panel discussions, student presentations, and the like; they also meet in preceptorial sessions in which each faculty member works with a small group of students in an informal discussion group to analyze reading assignments and to further pursue issues raised in the large group sessions. This arrangement guarantees that all students have a similar experience and the opportunity to work closely with a faculty member from the earliest point in their undergraduate program of studies.

The Students

Students are chosen for the College based on a number of factors. Certainly they must have proven that they are excellent students who are capable of performing well in the rigorous honors curriculum as well as in their other course work. Indeed, the average SAT score for honors program students is over 1220 and the average high school GPA is near perfect. Admission, however, is not simply based on numbers. Since the "ideal" honors student not only is a good student, but also is an active member of the community and a person who seeks out challenges both academic and personal, great emphasis is placed on letters of recommendation, a personal essay and the breadth of the student's experiences.

The success of these graduates of The Honors College is yet another example of Florida International University's continuing commitment to providing an exceptional undergraduate education to its students. Further information about these activities can be obtained by contacting The Honors College.

FIU Honor Societies

Student Honor Stole

The greatest honor is bestowed to those students who wear the Honor Stole and Medallion. Those students who have been recognized by their respective Honor Society and by Florida International University Honors Council have reached a high level of academic achievement. The traditional gold honor stole has the emblem of the FIU Honors Council on the right hand side and their distinguishing Honor Society's Greek letters on the left.

While every effort is made for clearance prior to the printing deadline, final action to ensure an accurate listing of the names of all persons qualified for degrees cannot always be taken before the program goes to printing. Therefore errors are possible, and the listing of a name in this program should not be constituted as an indication that the person in fact received a degree from Florida International University at this commencement. Conversely, the absence of a student's name from this list does not necessarily mean that the person was not awarded a degree.

Congratulations

TO OUR FALL 2006 CLASS!

*Welcome to the Family of more than 115,000
FIU Alumni Worldwide*

As a small token of our appreciation we would like to offer you a one-year membership at the reduced rate of $10, a savings of $25!

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Feel the Pride!

ON THE DAY OF COMMENCEMENT come visit us inside the white Alumni Tent located outside the Pharmed Arena. You and your family can purchase memberships, diploma frames, flowers, class rings, t-shirts and receive much, much more!

CALL 1-800-FIU-ALUM or VISIT ONLINE at www.fialumni.com

December 2006

On behalf of the FIU Alumni Association and its Board of Directors we extend our congratulations and welcome you to your new family of more than 115,000 alumni.

Your Alumni Association exists to support the goals and mission of FIU and to be a viable resource for engaging alumni. The Association helps fund scholarships and sponsors numerous events including the Torch Awards Gala, Alumni Career Fair, pre-game tailgating parties and alumni reunions.

Membership in the Alumni Association is a great way for you to show your school pride and establish a lifelong relationship with the university. As a member, you receive four issues of the award-winning FIU Magazine; NOW@FIU e-newsletter; special FIU Athletic ticket offers and priority seating; major theme park, travel and car rental discounts; and much more.

The FIU Alumni Association will always be your home away from home! Whenever you are on campus, stop by and pay us a visit. Remember membership has its privileges. You can enjoy all the benefits of being an active member by joining online at www.fiu alumni.com or calling 800-FIU-ALUM.

GO GOLDEN PANTHERS!

Best regards,
