FIU Alma Mater

by Dr. Clair T. McElfresh

Rededicated on November 3, 1988 • Orchestration by Dr. Philip Fink

Hail to thee dear FIU with voices true we pledge to thee.

All our love and our devotion.

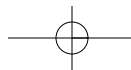

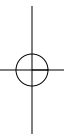

Humble faith and loyalty.

We will strive for understanding and for peace and unity.

We will search for truth and wisdom.

We will always honor thee.

FIU Alma Mater Hail! Hail to Thee.

FLORIDA INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY

Florida International University is one of the nation's leading urban, public institutions of higher learning and one of the region's most vital educational assets. Since 1965, when FIU was chartered as South Florida's first public university, FIU has built a widespread reputation for the excellence of its teaching and research programs.

The university has a nationally celebrated faculty, students from throughout the United States and more than 130 foreign countries, and alumni who have risen to prominence in every field. The university takes full advantage of its location in Miami, which serves as a "living laboratory" for many of its programs and offers unparalleled internship and job opportunities. As a major university located in one of the nation's great cities, FIU offers a rare combination of vast resources, personal attention and affordability.

The university offers more than 200 baccalaureate, master's, doctoral and specialist degree programs in 24 colleges and schools: Accounting; Architecture; Architecture and the Arts; Art and Art History; Arts and Sciences; Business Administration; Chapman Graduate School of Business; Computing and Information Sciences; Continuing and Professional Studies; Education; Criminal Justice; Engineering and Computing; Medicine; Honors College; Hospitality and Tourism Management; Journalism and Mass Communication; Law; Medicine; Music; Nursing and Health Sciences; Public Administration; Social Work, Justice and Public Affairs; Stempel School of Public Health; Theatre, Dance and Speech Communication; and University Graduate School.

FIU has more than 38,000 students, 1,000 full-time faculty, and 120,000 alumni, making it the largest university in South Florida. The university has two campuses — University Park in western Miami-Dade County and the Biscayne Bay Campus in northeast Miami-Dade County — and the FIU Broward-Pines Center, an academic facility in nearby Broward County. The 40-acre Engineering Center, a major research facility, is located near University Park.

FIU Medallion

Judith Blucker
University Service

For more than 30 years, founding faculty member Dr. Judith A. Blucker has been a leader in education and collegiate athletics at Florida International University. Dr. Blucker joined FIU as an assistant professor of education in 1972 after earning a doctoral degree at Florida State University.

During the university's formative years, Dr. Blucker championed women's athletics, serving as the University's first volleyball coach (1972 - 76) and softball coach (1972 - 79). Her volleyball teams of 1975 and 1976 won the Florida Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (FAIAW) state senior college championships and the 1976 Volleyball team was the first FIU team to be invited to participate in a National Championship sponsored by FAIAW. These efforts were recently recognized by her induction in the FIU Athletics Hall of Fame in 2006, the lone coach among five student-athlete inductees.

Dr. Blucker has held a variety of administrative positions at FIU beginning with College of Education department chairperson and assistant/associate dean of education. In 1984, she was promoted to full professor in the College of Education and was appointed acting vice president of Student Affairs by former President Gregory Wolfe. In 1986, President Modesto A. Maidique appointed Dr. Blucker to the position of vice provost of Academic Affairs for Broward Programs, charging her with the responsibility of academic program development at the joint FIU/FAU campus in downtown Fort Lauderdale.

In 1991, Dr. Blucker returned to the University Park Campus as executive vice provost of Academic Affairs. She later served as the interim dean of the College of Health and then returned to the executive vice provost position for budget and personnel from 1997 until her retirement in July 2003.

In December 2004, Dr. Blucker was asked by President Maidique to become the chief negotiator for the university's collective bargaining process. Under her leadership, successful contract negotiations were concluded for the United Faculty of Florida and the Service Employees International Union. Starting in May 2006, Dr. Blucker has served as the interim dean of the College of Education during a year-long national search for a new dean.

FIU Medallion ~ Outstanding Alumni

Antonio Argiz '74

Alumnus

As managing partner of Morrison, Brown, Argiz & Farra, LLP since 1997, Antonio Argiz has led the firm to become the largest independent public accounting firm in Florida. Ranked in the Top 50 nationally, the company has been named 11 times on the INSIDE Public Accounting annual list of the nation's 25 best managed accounting firms.

Well known for his industry and community leadership, Argiz is a highly respected and nationally recognized practitioner specializing in litigation support services. A sought-after expert by the most prestigious law firms in South Florida, Argiz has developed a broad domestic and international litigation support practice.

He also has served on the American Institute of CPAs (AICPA) Nominations Committee, on the governing body of the AICPA's and on the Private Companies Practice Executive Committee and its Technical Issues Committee, as well as on the Florida Board of Accountancy and its Probable Cause Panel.

Argiz served as chairman of FIU's Council of 100 and is a member of both the University's Foundation Board and Dean's Council. Additionally, he gives time to, among others, the Beacon Council, the Orange Bowl Committee, United Way Miami-Dade County, Coconut Grove Cares and Carrollton School of the Sacred Heart.

During the last 30 years, he has developed extensive knowledge and experience in practices involving audits, business planning, valuations and litigation cases. He has been involved with a broad spectrum of industries, which has given him unique experience and insight into all aspects of the financial well-being of his clients.

FIU Medallion ~ Outstanding Alumni

Philip Goldfarb '79
Alumnus

A hospitality industry veteran of more than 25 years, Philip Goldfarb is the chief operating officer of Turnberry Associates, one of the nation's leading real estate development and property management firms.

In this position, Goldfarb is responsible for the operation of hotels, among which are the luxurious Fairmont Turnberry Isle Resort & Club and the historic Union Station in Nashville, Tennessee. He also is in charge of the firm's retail and office divisions, which include South Florida's Aventura Mall and more than 1.5 million square feet of Class A office space.

Prior to joining Turnberry Associates, Goldfarb was chief operating officer of All Florida Hospitality Management and worked for more than a decade with Doubletree Hotels Corporation.

He currently sits on the School of Hospitality and Tourism Management's Industry Advisory Board, which provides counsel to the dean in matters relating to curriculum, fund raising and career placement for students and graduates. He lives in South Florida with his wife Sharon.

FIU Medallion ~ Outstanding Alumni

Teresita Fernández '90

Alumna

The works of acclaimed artist Teresita Fernández have been exhibited around the world. A 1990 graduate of FIU's undergraduate fine arts program, Fernández was the 2005 recipient of a MacArthur Foundation "genius grant," a $500,000 annual prize that recognizes extraordinary artists, scientists and intellectuals. According to the MacArthur Foundation, her "lyrical and immaculately executed" works push the boundaries of sculpture and installation art into the fields of architecture and landscape architecture.

Fernández was born in Miami and lives and works in Brooklyn, New York. She had her first solo exhibition in 1995 at the Museum of Contemporary Art, Miami. Today, her work is included in numerous major private collections as well as the permanent collections of the St. Louis Art Museum; the Museum of Contemporary Art in Miami, the Miami Art Museum, the Walker Art Center in Minneapolis, the Sammlung Goetz, and Albright-Knox Art Gallery in Buffalo.

She has been featured in numerous solo exhibitions internationally at sites including the Corcoran Gallery, Washington, D.C.; New Museum of Contemporary Art, New York; the Centro de Arte Contemporáneo de Málaga, Spain; the Institute of Contemporary Art, Philadelphia; Site Santa Fe, New Mexico; Castello di Rivoli, Torino, Italy; the Witte de With in Rotterdam, and the Miami Art Museum. She was also featured in "Outer City, Inner Space: Teresita Fernández, Stephen Hendee, and Ester Partegas" at the Whitney Museum of American Art at Philip Morris in 2002.

Fernández is the youngest artist commissioned by the Seattle Art Museum for the recently opened Olympic Sculpture Park, where her work Seattle Cloud Cover allows visitors to walk through a covered skyway while viewing the city's skyline through tiny holes in multicolored glass.

In addition to the MacArthur Fellowship, Fernández has also been recognized with a 2003 Guggenheim Fellowship and 1999 Louis Comfort Tiffany Biennial Award. She has had residencies in Japan, Italy, and at ArtPace in San Antonio. She was commissioned for special projects by the Museum of Modern Art in New York in 2000, and by the Public Art Fund in 2001. Her work is represented by the Lehmann Maupin Gallery in New York.

THE COMMENCEMENT:

An Academic Tradition

Michael J. Wagner, Ph.D., Retired Professor of Music Education

At every academic institution, commencement exercises are the high point of the calendar. Since the purpose of a college or university is to prepare its students to merit the conferral of an academic degree, the commencement ceremony serves as the instrument for exhibiting the success of both the university and its students in fulfilling this primary goal. The rites involved in the celebration of commencement stem from civilization's earliest times. In fact, the very word, commencement, means a beginning. If you are familiar with the trappings of this grand ceremony, you are aware that the traditions carried forth from medieval days are revealed in all of their pomp, color and symbolism. It is a celebration of new beginnings. For participants and observers alike, commencement is meant to be both self-serving and an emotional experience.

The Chain of Office

President Maidique personifies the university at the FIU Commencement. He is the ceremony's convener and chief presider, and he displays a great chain, which is the FIU chain of office. This ancient symbol is perhaps the most beautiful and artistic of any of the accoutrements of the ceremony. During the Renaissance, holders of very high office sometimes wore a chain as a symbol of their authority. FIU's chain is made of sterling silver and its designs are cast, cut and etched. The center medallion represents the world and is surrounded by sea shells cast from an actual shell. Reflecting the university and the South Florida area are the eight ovals which make up the chain. Each link is connected by a shell motif and exemplifies a specific entity: 1) the University Park tower, 2) the Vrana sculpture over the entrance of Primera Casa, and 3) the Torch of Friendship. The others represent the five original schools in the FIU community: Arts and Sciences, Business, Education, Hospitality Management, and Engineering. Inscribed upon four of the medallions are the names and dates of tenure of FIU presidents — Charles Perry, Harold Crosby, Gregory Wolfe, Modesto A. Maidique. The chain was designed by Dr. Clem Pennington, associate professor of art education, now retired, and executed in 1977 by Leo Shirker, a Miami goldsmith, art teacher and FIU alumnus.

The Mace

The Grand Marshal carries a ceremonial club called a mace. In antiquity, when an official of high rank went out in public, a mace-bearer was assigned to accompany him in order to literally beat away those who got close enough to try to petition the favors of the official. Today, the bearing of the university's mace is ceremonial in nature, signifying the authority and authenticity of those who are to follow. FIU's Pennington Mace is hand-crafted from Haitian mahogany and was also designed by Dr. Clem Pennington, in 1976.

Music

Music plays an important role in the commencement experience. The commencement procession begins with the playing of Aaron Copland's Fanfare for the Common Man. It is followed by the traditional and familiar Pomp and Circumstance March #1, by Sir Edward Elgar. This march, one of a set of five Pomp and Circumstance marches by Elgar, is traditionally played at commencement ceremonies throughout the United States, and many places around the world. It has come to symbolize the commencement experience. After the processional, and after the academic body is assembled, our national anthem, The Star Spangled Banner, is played.

After the National Anthem, the FIU Alma Mater is played. This piece of FIU symbolism was composed by Clair McElfresh of the FIU Music faculty, former dean of undergraduate studies, and now retired.

Marshals

The leader of the academic procession is the Grand Marshal. At FIU, this prestigious honor goes to the chairperson of the Faculty Senate (the university's governing body for academic matters). You will notice that as the Grand Marshal processes, the mace (a formidable weapon) is held at port arms, the ready position for quick protection. Faculty and student marshals have been elected to lead candidates for graduation from each of the university's schools and colleges.

The Dais Party

The Dais Party is also known as the Platform Party. This group is composed of the university's administrative leaders and very special guests. The Dais Party enters the hall before the faculty and proceeds directly to stage. At the end of the processional, the Grand Marshal declares the proceedings open, and the ceremony moves forward.

Academic Regalia

The tradition of wearing distinctive academic attire at commencement ceremonies originated in Europe in the twelfth century. However, gowns and capes had been worn by clerics and ecclesiastics even before that date. A heavy black or brown gown was apparently worn at all times. Hoods and capes were also a necessity during the long, cold European winters because the buildings in which scholars lived, studied and taught were cold and drafty. When not being used to provide warmth, hoods and baggy sleeves served the same purpose as do today's pockets. Often a crust of bread or some cheese were tucked away in them for sustenance on a long journey. The academic costume at English universities (from which many of our American commencement traditions originate) can be traced as far back as the middle of the fourteenth century, to the time when scholars were rebuked that a decent habit was to be worn (Statutes of Peterhouse, 1344). This document further prescribed the code of dress for university teachers of that era. In a 1432 statute, students and even doctors of theology were restricted to bunge and sad-colored habits. The robes of master were to be flowing and reach the ankles. In an order dated 1358, tailors were admonished not to stint the robes, which should be argae et talares, because clerks (of whom scholars were one type) should be distinguished from the laity. A few universities still require students and faculty to wear a short gown both on and off the university campus. Oxford, Cambridge and some Scottish universities maintain this custom. The faculties of American universities have worn academic garb for commencement ceremonies since the beginning of the system. For almost 250 years, each university chose its own costume until it was realized that in 1896 an event unique in history would be taking place. This was the simultaneous celebrations of the 250th anniversary of Harvard University and the 500th anniversary of Heidelberg University. Because of this unique circumstance, the Intercollegiate Bureau of Academic Costume was opened in 1895 to record the distinctive colors of institutions, their arrangement, the particulars of gowns, hoods and caps, as well as information pertaining to academic ceremonies. At that time, an American code of academic dress was agreed upon. With few modifications, it is still with us today.

Gowns

Academic gowns of today are most easily identified by the distinctive style of their sleeves. The bachelor's gown is worn closed and its sleeves are long, open and pointed. The master's gown can be worn either open or closed, and has long distinctive sleeves which are closed, with a slit near the elbow to free the hand and forearm. These pointed sleeves hang down from the elbow to below the hand. The doctor's gown can be worn either opened or closed, and has five inches of velvet trim down both front edges, and three velvet chevrons on each sleeve. The velvet trim may be either black or the color of the discipline in which the degree is granted. The sleeves are closed and bloused.

Hoods

Probably the greatest degree of symbolism is expressed with the academic hood. Those who hold bachelor's degrees and participate in commencement sometimes wear a hood. Candidates for the bachelor's degree do not. The bachelor's hood is black and is three-feet long, with a two-inch velvet border in the color of discipline in which the degree is awarded. The master's hood is also of black material, and is three-and-one-half feet long with a three-inch velvet border in the color of the discipline. It is lined with the colors of the institution conferring the degree. The doctor's hood is four-feet long, has a five-inch velvet border in the the color of the discipline, and is lined with the colors of the institution granting the degree.

Caps

Traditionally, the Oxford style square cap is considered proper headdress. In recent times, however, it has become stylish to wear a soft cap of either square or octagonal shape. All graduates wear a tassel over the left side of the cap. Bachelor's and master's tassels may be black or the color of the academic discipline, while doctor's tassels are always gold.

These are by no means all of the styles or accoutrements worn as academic dress. Indeed, in South American, Spanish and Dutch universities, the academic attire can be likened to plumage. It is not uncommon to see brightly colored gowns adorned with ermine and other furs, flowing capes, and caps trimmed with beads or tassels. Some universities in South America even add Indian feathers to the headdress, in honor of the Inca Indians. At Florida International University, whose colors are blue and gold, the traditional colors of the disciplines are:

The Honors College

Graduates of the Honors College have had the opportunity to work with some of the University's most outstanding faculty members in a program of excellence in academics, personal development, and service. The College boasts faculty from a wide array of academic disciplines and students from 80 different nations and states. The Honors College provides top students with an interdisciplinary education that complements their major fields and prepares them to compete in the workplace or for graduate or professional school placement after graduation.

Created as a program in 1990, the College has grown to include a thousand students and forty-three faculty members in an exciting and challenging academic environment. The Honors College now provides a full range of opportunities and support activities for its students, including study abroad courses, individual advising, research and internship programs, and service opportunities. The heart of the college is its creative and supportive community.

The Curriculum

Honors seminars are unique classes that assure that a challenging thread winds through the undergraduate experience of all students in the College, regardless of major. Every semester Honors College students take an interdisciplinary honors seminar. Most are team-taught by three to four members of the Honors faculty. Students and faculty members meet each week for large group lectures, panel discussions, student presentations and films; they also meet weekly in small discussion sessions to analyze reading assignments and to elaborate on issues raised during the large group. Students thus have the opportunity to work closely with one faculty member, while learning from several in their large group, from the earliest point in their studies. Third and fourth year students take advanced trans-disciplinary seminars and/or study abroad trips.

The Students

Students chosen for the College are excellent students capable of performing well in the rigorous Honors curriculum as well as in their other course work. The average SAT score for Honors students is 1246. Admission, however, is not simply based on numbers. Since the "ideal" Honors student should be active in the community and seeks out challenges both academically and personally, emphasis is placed on letters of recommendation, a personal essay, and the breadth of the student's experiences.

The success of these graduates of the Honors College is yet another example of Florida International University's continuing commitment to providing an exceptional undergraduate education for its students.

FIU Honor Societies

Student Honor Stole

The greatest honor is bestowed to those students who wear the Honor Stole and Medallion. Those students who have been recognized by their respective Honor Society and by Florida International University Honors Council have reached a high level of academic achievement. The traditional gold honor stole has the emblem of the FIU Honors Council on the left hand side and their distinguishing Honor Society's Greek letters on the right.

ALUMNI

Feel the Pride!

ON THE DAY OF COMMENCEMENT come visit us inside the white Alumni Tent located outside the Pharmed Arena. You and your family enjoy free food and beverages, listen to music and purchas graduation gifts.

CALL 1-800-FIU-ALUM or VISIT ONLINE at www.fialumni.com

Spring 2008

On behalf of the FIU Alumni Association and its Board of Directors we extend our congratulations and welcome you to your new family of more than 130,000 alumni.

Your Alumni Association exists to support the goals and mission of FIU and to be a viable resource for engaging alumni. The Association helps fund scholarships and sponsors numerous events including the Torch Awards Gala, Alumni Career Fair, pre-game tailgating parties and alumni reunions.

Membership in the Alumni Association is a great way for you to show your school pride and establish a lifelong relationship with the university. As a member, you receive four issues of the award-winning FIU Magazine; NOW@FIU e-newsletter; special FIU Athletic ticket offers and priority seating; major theme park, travel and car rental discounts; and much more.

The FIU Alumni Association will always be your home away from home! Whenever you are on campus, stop by and pay us a visit. Remember membership has its privileges. You can enjoy all the benefits of being an active member by joining online at www.fiu alumni.com or calling 800-FIU-ALUM.

GO GOLDEN PANTHERS!

Best regards,
