FIU DIGITAL COMMONS ANNUAL REPORT

FY 2018-2019

Jill Krefft
Institutional Repository
Coordinator

Background

FIU's Institutional Repository is a full-text, online, open access repository and publishing platform for the scholarship, creative output and history of FIU. The goals of the repository are to:

- Serve as a persistent and centralized access point for FIU scholarship and creative works
- Promote faculty and student research to a global community
- Preserve the history, growth and development of FIU
- Provide a platform for faculty to post Open Access copies of publications to meet OA requirements of funding agencies.

The Institutional Repository is managed and administered by Jill Krefft, Institutional Repository Coordinator; Jamie Rogers, Assistant Department Head Digital Collections Center; with additional support from the staff of the FIU Digital Collections Center, Special Collections and University Archives, and University Graduate School. More information is available at:

<http://digitalcommons.fiu.edu/about.html>

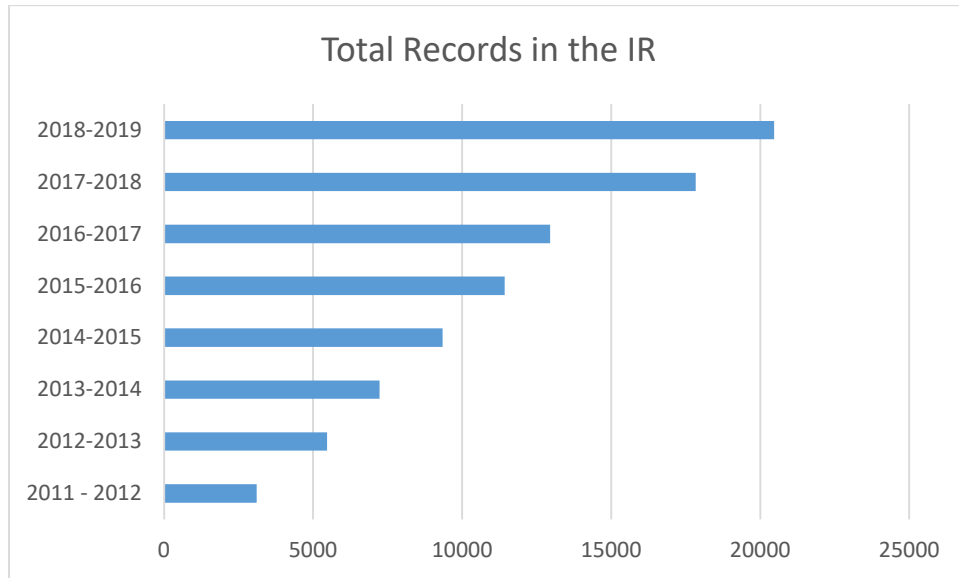

The repository is hosted by Berkley Electronic Press (BePress), which boasts a strong network of over 500 institutions across the globe. Our repository hosts over 19,000 papers, presentations, reports, images, and videos from more than 60 FIU departments and centers.

FY 2018-2019 Highlights

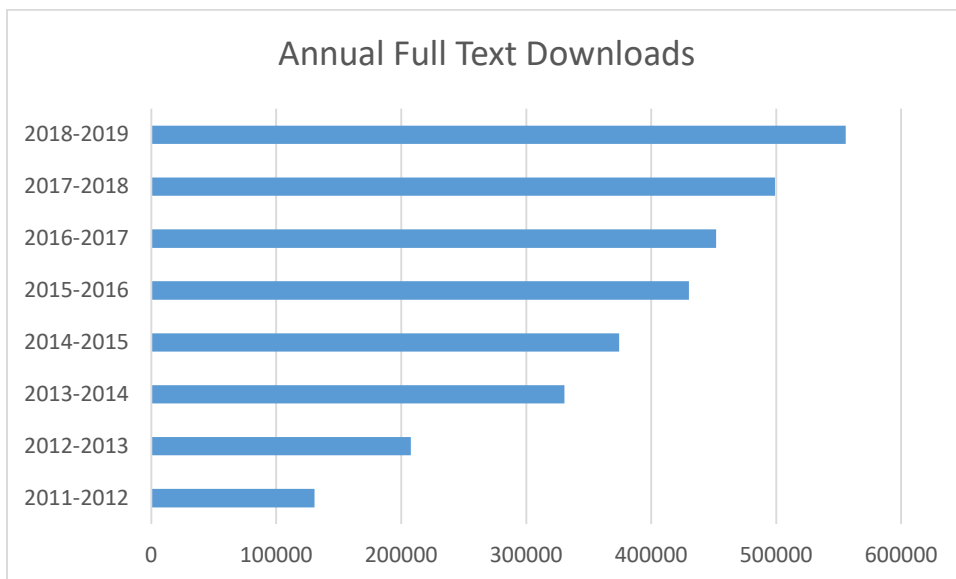

- Digital Commons total downloads for 2018-2019 was 555,706.
- Digital Commons collections grew by 2,629 new items.
- This year there was a strong focus on supporting access to University Archives materials in Digital Commons, with the BBC Student Government Associations Archive. Other new collections include Miami Beach Urban Studios 3D renderings, and the Bioethics Education Resources (BEdR) Portal.
- We continue to publish and archive electronic theses and dissertations (ETDs), which include the works of new FIU graduates as well as retrospective digitization of theses and dissertations dating back to the opening of the university. 238 new ETDs and 224 retrospective ETDs were published and archived in 2018/2019.

Growth Over the Years

Digital Commons began tracking its usage in 2011. Since then, collection size has increased annually at a steady pace. Strategic partnerships across campus departments, centers and institutes as well as the development of new strategies for harvesting of content to minimize burden on faculty helped grow the collections this year.

In 2011, our collection included 3,105 records. In 7 years, collections have grown to a total of 20,466 records.

With our continued collection growth our download counts have continually increased as well, demonstrating that we are providing access to meaningful and useful collections.

Top 5 Most Downloaded Works:

1. The History of Kindergarten: From Germany to the United States (South Florida Education Research Conference) – 8,654 Downloads
2. Examining Argumentative Coherence in Essays by Undergraduate Students of English as a Foreign Language in Mainland China and Their English Speaking Peers in the United States (ETD) – 5,864 Downloads
3. Memory-Aware Scheduling for Fixed Priority Hard Real-Time Computing Systems (ETD) – 5,611 Downloads
4. Diccionario de Terminos Geologicos Ingles/Espanol - Espanol/Ingles; English/Spanish - Spanish/English Dictionary of Geological Terms (Dialogue #85) (LACC Occasional papers series. Dialogues (1980 - 1994)) – 5,296 Downloads
5. Fibonacci Series, Golden Proportions, and the Human Biology (HWCOM Faculty Publications) – 5,202 Downloads

Top 5 Most Downloaded Collections:

1. Electronic Theses and Dissertations – 282,150 Downloads
2. Hospitality Review – 81,542 Downloads
3. South Florida Education Research Conference – 72,744 Downloads
4. Class, Race and Corporate Power (journal) – 23,909 Downloads
5. Student Newspaper Archives – 10,460 Downloads

Looking Ahead

For FY 2019-2020, we look forward to

- Continue to develop and curate existing collections across STEM fields, humanities and the arts;
- Continued ingest of retrospective theses and dissertations;
- Continued support of FIU Preeminent Programs and Organizational Research Units;
- Continue to promote and support the Institutional Repository and the institutional data repository. Provide educational opportunities through workshops and online learning materials for both faculty and students
- Expanding collaborations and partnerships at the university and community levels.
- Continue to support researchers by providing links between datasets and materials hosted in Digital Commons.

Collection Highlights

Student Government Association at Biscayne Bay Campus Archive

Beginning in 2017, University Archives and the Institutional Repository staff began collecting, processing and curating digitized items from the Student Government Association of Biscayne Bay (SGA BBC).

This collection includes over 400 images from SGA BBC Events from 2007-present. The document archive includes over 1,060 documents from 1993-present. Documents part of this collection include budgets, constitutions, bylaws, meeting minutes, resolutions and senate bills.

This collection provides access to a unique part of student history at FIU and since it became available in the Fall of 2018 has received almost 2000 downloads.

Video Collections

In partnership with University Archives, FIU Media Services and several schools and centers, Digital Commons hosts various collections that include recorded lectures and other notable university events including convocation, town hall meetings and musical/theatrical performances.

In total, Digital Commons collections contain 965 videos. 176 new videos were added this year alone, most from the newest collection "FIU in View" (<https://digitalcommons.fiu.edu/fiuvinview/>). These collections received a total of 625 metadata page hits and 2,505 views.

New Research Formats

Institutional Repositories have traditionally hosted papers, reports, articles and other textual materials and served as a means for opening up access to scholarship that would otherwise be restricted either through subscription based journals or simply because they are not made available online.

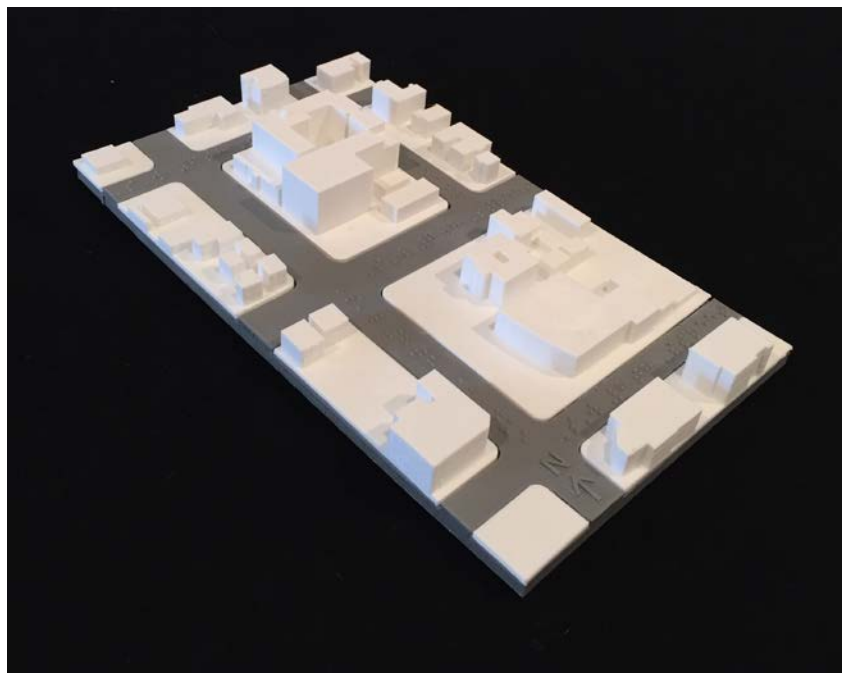

With the changing landscape in scholarship and the development of new types of research outputs, Digital Commons has been working with faculty and researchers to provide access to new types of materials.

3D Materials

This year, Digital Commons began work on hosting and sharing 3D materials from the Miami Beach Urban Studios (MBUS). MBUS is a unique 16,000sf facility in the 420 Lincoln Road Building that hosts an interdisciplinary array of innovative exhibitions, classes, research laboratories, and events for the College of Communication, Architecture + The Arts. MBUS houses the 3,500sf Knight-sponsored CARTA Innovation Lab, which with over 33 3D printers is one of the largest 3D printing laboratories of its kind in the United States.

The first 3D item in this collection is the “Tactile Map: Miami Lighthouse For The Blind” (<https://digitalcommons.fiu.edu/mbus/>). In this model, one can sense the location and form of the Lighthouse headquarters, the forms of the structures around the Lighthouse for The Blind, the north arrow, and braille stating the streets.

This year Digital Commons will continue to collect and make available additional 3D materials from MBUS.

Research Data

To expand support for Graduate Student research, Digital Commons is working towards sharing of research data sets associated with graduate student research, particularly research related to dissertations published within Digital Commons.

Through a Technology Fee Grant, and in collaboration with the Division of IT and the University Graduate School, the University Libraries is building a computing infrastructure to support archiving and publishing of institutional research data sets.

The new data repository is a local instance of Harvard's Dataverse (dataverse.org) called the FIU Research Data Portal and will:

1. Provide an online centralized digital repository collection for enhanced discovery of institutional and unique research data across disciplines;
2. Archive at risk data essential to our student and faculty research in environmental sciences, Everglades research and climate change and ensure long term access;
3. Provide faculty and students data archiving services that enable PIs, researchers, and students the ability to appropriately manage, share, and preserve their research data in line with funder and publisher requirements.

Through the FIU Research Data Portal, students will now have the opportunity to publish their dissertation's research data independently of their thesis, enhancing the impact and reach of their scholarship.

Readership Distribution

Readership by Country

The readership distribution illustrates the reach and visibility of our collections to the global community. Digital Commons Collections were accessed from 219 countries around the world. Below are the top 20 countries to download the collections.
