DESCRIPTION OF EVENT: "Fashion! or Life in New York" by Anna Cora Mowatt, the first American play of distinction and the first important satire of society in the New World, served notice to the 19th century theater world that the "Yankees" had talent. This delightful comedy of manners satirizes the mania of the 1830's and 40's for aping European models. F. Curtis Canfield's musical adaptation brings new life to the comedy.
