Message from the Alumni Association72

FIU Alma Mater73

Florida International University is a vibrant, student-centered public research university, ideally located in Miami, that is Worlds Ahead in its commitment to learning, research, entrepreneurship, innovation and creativity so that our graduates are prepared to succeed in the global market.

Since 1965, when it was chartered as the area's first public university, FIU has built a reputation for excellence in teaching, research and community engagement. Since taking office in August 2009, President Mark B. Rosenberg has focused on strengthening student-centered academic excellence, enhancing research that supports community priorities and expanding community partnerships.

FIU has a diverse and nationally celebrated faculty who brings a global perspective to its research and teaching. Our vibrant student body is made up of individuals from throughout the United States and more than 130 countries, and our Worlds Ahead alumni have risen to prominence in every field.

FIU offers more than 200 baccalaureate, master's, doctoral and specialist degree programs in its colleges and schools, including: College of Architecture + The Arts, College of Arts, Sciences & Education, College of Business, College of Engineering and Computing, Honors College, College of Law, Herbert Wertheim College of Medicine, Nicole Wertheim College of Nursing and Health Sciences, Chaplin School of Hospitality and Tourism Management, Steven J. Green School of International and Public Affairs, School of Journalism and Mass Communication, and Robert Stempel College of Public Health and Social Work.

FIU has more than 54,000 students, 1,200 full-time faculty and more than 200,000 alumni – many of whom live and work in South Florida. The university is split between two major campuses: the Modesto A. Maidique Campus (MMC) in western Miami-Dade County and the Biscayne Bay Campus (BBC) in northeast Miami-Dade County. FIU also has several other locations across South Florida: FIU@I-75, an academic facility in nearby Broward County; the Engineering Center, a 40-acre research facility located near MMC; FIU Downtown on Brickell; and the Miami Beach Urban Studios (MBUS) on South Beach. Three fully accredited museums are a part of FIU's portfolio: the Patricia and Phillip Frost Art Museum at MMC; the Wolfsonian FIU; and the Jewish Museum of Florida-FIU- both on South Beach. FIU also has the Marriott Tianjin China Program with the Chaplin School of Hospitality and Tourism Management — and the Aquarius Reef Base, the world's only undersea research lab.

Thanks to the support of the South Florida community, FIU has emerged as a Worlds Ahead leader of higher education.

The audience is requested to remain seated for the Processional and rise for the National Anthem and the FIU Alma Mater.

Commencement Speaker

Mohsin H. Jaffer

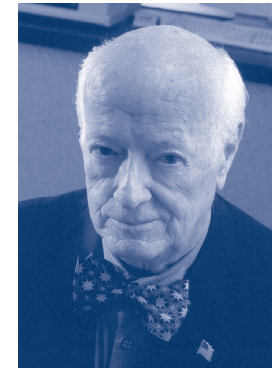

Dr. Mohsin Jaffer is a family practitioner, philanthropist and former voluntary clinical assistant professor in the Herbert Wertheim College of Medicine.

Jaffer currently serves in several capacities within the health care industry. He is CEO of Stallion Medical Management, where he works closely with health care providers throughout South Florida to help them achieve optimal results for their practice and patients. He is the founder, president and lead physician at Senior Medical Associates, where he empowers seniors to lead healthy lifestyles through his signature lecture, “Pearls of Longevity with Good Health and Happiness.” He is vice president of the Miami Gardens-based nonprofit UHI Community Care Clinic, which provides free primary health care to low-income, uninsured South Floridians.

Jaffer and his wife are committed to international charity through the Mohsin and Fauzia Jaffer Foundation. Their efforts in Africa and beyond have helped those in need receive medical attention and provide families with nutrition and means to gain income.

Previously, Jaffer was chairman of North Shore PHO and secretary of its board of trustees. He helped start Neighborhood Health Plan and served on the company’s board of directors. He was also chief of family medicine at Memorial Hospital West. Just as he served in a volunteer teaching role at FIU, he previously did the same at Nova Southeastern University and the University of Miami.

Jaffer is among the newest members of the Dr. Nan S. Hutchinson Broward Senior Hall of Fame, which recognizes residents for their service to the county’s senior citizens. A board-certified practitioner, he earned his medical degree at the University of Rajasthan in Jaipur, India, and completed his residency at the University of Miami-Jackson Memorial Hospital.

Commencement Speaker

William P. Murphy Jr.

Dr. William P. Murphy Jr. is chairman of the board of U.S. Stem Cell Inc., a pioneer in the research and development of stem cell and regenerative medical treatment for patients with degenerative diseases.

A highly successful entrepreneur and inventor and the owner of 17 patents, Murphy has channeled his expertise, drive and creativity into founding several companies. These include Small Parts Inc., a mechanical-components supplier for design engineers that was acquired by Amazon.com Inc. in 2005, and Cordis Corporation, a leading manufacturer of cardiovascular medical devices. Murphy also served as the chairman and CEO of Hyperion, Inc., a medical diagnosis company.

Murphy is the recipient of a number of honors, including the prestigious Lemelson-MIT Lifetime Achievement Award; the MIT Corporate Leadership Award; the Distinguished Service Award from North American Society of Pacing and Electrophysiology; and the Jay Malina Award from the Beacon Council, Miami-Dade County’s economic development arm. Murphy was inducted into the National Inventors Hall of Fame in 2008.

Murphy received his medical degree from the University of Illinois in 1947, after completing a pre-medicine track at Harvard College in 1946. He also studied physiologic instrumentation at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

FIU Medallion

Malcolm Butters '83
Outstanding Alumni

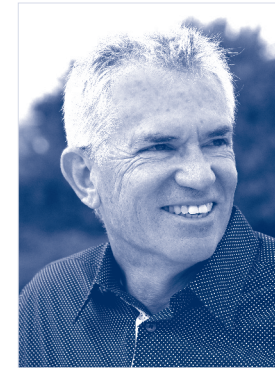

FIU alumnus Malcolm Butters '83 is president and co-founder of Butters Construction & Development, Inc., a real-estate firm engaged in the construction, development, investment, management and leasing of office, industrial and retail properties.

Over the past 26 years, Butters Construction & Development has built more than 18 million square feet of property. Notable projects include the Boca Village Corporate Center, which contains more than 500,000 square feet of office and retail space, and Hillsboro Technology Park, a 900,000-square-foot business park in Deerfield Beach.

Over the past decade, Butters Construction & Development has been recognized as one of the most active commercial developers in Florida, and in the past five years, Butters' company has become Miami's leading industrial developer. The firm has five times won the Developer of the Year title from the National Association of Industrial and Office Properties' South Florida chapter, and in 2008 Malcolm was inducted into FIU's Entrepreneurship Hall of Fame.

Butters was a pioneer in elevating architectural standards for industrial buildings, resulting in aesthetically pleasing, award-winning facilities. He is active in a number of community and non-profit organizations. At FIU he founded the Malcolm Butters Real Estate Scholarship Award in support of deserving young people seeking to follow their dreams.

Butters holds a master's degree in real estate from FIU and a bachelor of finance from the University of Miami.

Commencement Speaker

John McKibbon '75

John McKibbon is chairman of the McKibbon Hotel Group Inc., the third generation to head the family company founded in 1926. He began his career working in family-owned hotels before heading to college. His degree in hand, he rejoined the business as a general manager and later became a regional director. Named president in 1992, he began divesting the company of its older properties and started expanding through development with Marriott, Hilton and Starwood. McKibbon formed and serves as chairman of McKibbon Hotel Management and M3 Accounting + Analytics, an internet-based software provider.

McKibbon's passion for giving back is evident not only in his business activities but in his community endeavors. He is a past president of the Courtyard by Marriott Franchise Council and the Residence Inn by Marriott Association. In addition to his philanthropic affiliations with various nonprofit organizations in support of culture and ending poverty, McKibbon serves on the boards of the Florida Health Sciences Center and the Buncombe County Tourism Development Authority in Asheville, North Carolina. He is also a member of the Dean's Advisory Council of the FIU Chaplin School of Hospitality & Tourism Management. In 2009 he was honored with the FIU Medallion for Outstanding Alumnus. Christian principles and values are the core of all the McKibbon companies. Their shared mission: "To promote an environment for the ministry of serving others."

FIU Medallion

Mine Üçer
University Service

Philanthropist Mine Üçer of Turkey holds a degree in economics from Gazi University in her hometown of Ankara. The mother of two, she had first pursued a chemistry major but curtailed those studies in the interest of raising her children, at the time as a struggling single mother. With her education completed, she began her professional life as a commercial officer at the British Embassy.

Through her experiences of financial and emotional hardship, Üçer realized the importance of women's education, which became the focus of her philanthropy. She takes a special interest in projects supporting the education of girls and young women, and she is passionate about expanding the reach of education in Turkey and elsewhere.

Together with her second husband, Üçer helps to elevate the potential of bright students from disadvantaged backgrounds. Mr. Üçer established a music school at Istanbul Technical University and she renovated the Arts and Crafts Institute for Women. In eastern Turkey, they built three dormitories for girls so that they might attend school.

At FIU, Üçer supports the Center for Women's and Gender Studies. She is an advocate for several of the center's projects, including a Women in Science Lecture Series to promote and advance academic careers of women in the sciences, and an initiative to stop violence against women through faculty research and collaboration with community advocacy groups.

Üçer serves on the advisory board of the center and is a founding board member of the School of Integrated Science and Humanity.

FIU Honorary Degree

Marcia Jo Zerivitz
Doctor of Humane Letters
Honoris Causa

Marcia Jo Zerivitz, founding executive director of the Jewish Museum of Florida-FIU, has demonstrated vision and leadership throughout her life to expand knowledge, enrich collective historic memory and cultivate diversity.

Zerivitz has been a Florida community trailblazer for more than half a century, serving national, state and local organizations. She observed that the Jewish community in Florida had a major challenge — its continuity — and decided to focus on collecting and preserving for future generations the stories and material evidence of the contributions of Jews to the Sunshine State.

From 1984 to 1992, she traveled 250,000 miles throughout Florida, conducting grassroots research and retrieving the state's hidden, 250-year Jewish history, resulting in a major archive and the MOSAIC: Jewish Life in Florida traveling exhibit (1990-1994).

Under her direction, this project evolved into the Jewish Museum of Florida (1995), which documents and interprets the Jewish experience in Florida in the context of the immigrant experience of all American families. Zerivitz produced 70 exhibits with 500 educational programs. She initiated legislation for Florida Jewish History Month and Jewish American Heritage Month and authored many historical publications and films. She approached FIU President Mark B. Rosenberg about an affiliation, finalized in 2012, to create JMOF-FIU.

Zerivitz is retired from JMOF and continues to write and lecture on Jewish history and discrimination, consult in the field and curate exhibits. She resides on St. Pete Beach with her husband, Elliott, whom she credits as her partner in this journey. She is credited with an innovative process that gave the world something they did not have before: the compelling story of one ethnic group in a hugely diverse Florida.

Commencement Speaker

Ambassador Susan E. Rice
U.S. National Security Advisor

Ambassador Susan E. Rice serves as assistant to President Obama for national security affairs, a role she's held since 2013. She is also a member of the Council on Foreign Relations. One of the longest-serving U.S. Ambassadors to the United Nations, she acted as U.S. Permanent Representative to the U.N. from 2009-2013 and was a member of President Obama's Cabinet.

Previously, she served as senior advisor for national security affairs on the Obama for America Campaign, later assuming a position on the Obama-Biden Transition advisory board as co-chair of its policy-working group on national security. As a senior fellow at the Brookings Institution from 2002-2009, Rice focused her work on U.S. foreign policy, transnational security threats, weak states, global poverty and development.

Rice's other roles in government include service as the assistant secretary of state for African affairs from 1997-2001; special assistant to President William J. Clinton and senior director for African affairs at the National Security Council from 1995-1997; and director for international organizations and peacekeeping on the National Security Council from 1993-1995. She has also served on numerous boards, including the National Democratic Institute and the U.S. Fund for UNICEF.

She was co-recipient of the White House's 2000 Samuel Nelson Drew Memorial Award for distinguished contributions to the formation of peaceful, cooperative relationships between states. Rice holds a master's degree and a doctorate in philosophy in international relations from New College, Oxford University, England, where she was a Rhodes Scholar. A native of Washington, D.C., Rice received her bachelor's in history with honors from Stanford University, where she was a Truman Scholar.

THE COMMENCEMENT: An Academic Tradition

At every academic institution, commencement exercises are the high point of the calendar for students and their families. Since the purpose of a college or university is to prepare its students to merit the conferral of an academic degree, the commencement ceremony serves as the instrument for exhibiting the success of both the university and its students in fulfilling this primary goal. The rites involved in the celebration of commencement stem from civilization's earliest times. In fact, the very word, commencement, means a beginning. If you are familiar with the trappings of this grand ceremony, you are aware that the traditions carried forth from medieval days are revealed in all of their pomp, color and symbolism. It is a celebration of new beginnings. For participants and observers alike, commencement is meant to be both self-serving and an emotional experience.

The Chain of Office

The university president is the ceremony's convener and chief presider at the commencement ceremonies. The great chain, which is the FIU chain of office, is displayed on stage. This ancient symbol is perhaps the most beautiful and artistic of any of the accoutrements of the ceremony. During the Renaissance, holders of very high office sometimes wore a chain as a symbol of their authority. FIU's chain is made of sterling silver and its designs are cast, cut and etched. The center medallion represents the world and is surrounded by sea shells cast from an actual shell. Reflecting the university and the South Florida area are the eight ovals which make up the chain—designed by Clem Pennington, associate professor of art education, now retired, and created in 1977 by Leo Shirker, a Miami goldsmith, art teacher and FIU alumnus.

Grand Marshal

The leader of the academic procession is the Grand Marshal. At FIU, this prestigious honor goes to the chairperson of the Faculty Senate, which is the democratic collegial governance body of the faculty.

The Mace

The Grand Marshal carries a ceremonial club called a mace. In antiquity, when an official of high rank went out in public, a mace-bearer was assigned to accompany him in order to literally beat away those who got close enough to try to petition the favors of the official. Today, the bearing of the university's mace is ceremonial in nature, signifying the authority and authenticity of those who are to follow.

The Dais Party

The Dais Party is also known as the Platform Party. This group is composed of the university's administrative leaders and very special guests. The Dais Party enters the hall before the faculty and proceeds directly to stage.

Academic Regalia

The tradition of wearing distinctive academic attire at commencement ceremonies originated in Europe in the 12th century. However, gowns and capes had been worn by clerics and ecclesiastics even before that date. A heavy black or brown gown was apparently worn at all times. Hoods and capes were also a necessity during the long, cold European winters because the buildings in which scholars lived, studied and taught were cold and drafty. When not being used to provide warmth, hoods and baggy sleeves served the same purpose as do today's pockets. The academic costume at English universities (from which many of our American commencement traditions originate) can be traced as far back as the middle of the 14th century, to the time when scholars were rebuked that a decent habit was to be worn (Statutes of Peterhouse, 1344). The faculties of American universities have worn academic garb for commencement ceremonies since the beginning of the system. For almost 250 years, each university chose its own costume until it was realized that in 1896 an event unique in history would be taking place. This was the simultaneous celebrations of the 250th anniversary of Harvard University and the 500th anniversary of Heidelberg University. Because of this unique circumstance, the Intercollegiate Bureau of Academic Costume was opened in 1895 to record the distinctive colors of institutions, their arrangement, the particulars of gowns, hoods and caps, as well as information pertaining to academic ceremonies. At that time, an American code of academic dress was agreed upon to which we adhere today with few modifications. Since Spring 2011, FIU has selected to use earth-friendly academic regalia for undergraduate and graduate students. This initiative underlines FIU's commitment to sustainability. At Florida International University, whose colors are blue and gold, the traditional colors of the disciplines are:

Master's candidates wear black gowns and bachelor's candidates wear blue gowns with the following tassel and hood colors representing degrees:

Architecture	Blue Violet
Arts and Sciences	White
Business	Drab
Communication Arts	Crimson
Criminal Justice	Peacock Blue
Economics	Copper
Education	Light Blue
Engineering and Computer Science	Orange
Fine Arts	White
Health Sciences	Green
Honors	Gold
Hospitality and Tourism Management	Navy Blue
Journalism and Mass Communication	Crimson
Music	Pink
Nursing	Apricot
Public Administration	Peacock Blue
Public Health	Salmon
Social Work	Citron

Doctoral candidates wear black gowns with gold tassels and hood colors are assigned as follows:

Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.)	Navy Blue
Doctor of Education (Ed.D.)	Light Blue
Doctor of Physical Therapy (D.P.T.)	Teal
Doctor of Nursing Practice (D.N.P.)	Apricot
Doctor of Medicine (M.D.)	Green

The Honors College

The Honors College provides top students with an interdisciplinary education that complements their majors. The heart of the college is its creative, active and supportive community of outstanding students, superb teachers, accomplished researchers and dedicated staff. Honors College scholars are admitted competitively into a transformational college where they pursue both academic and personal excellence. The curriculum emphasizes critical, integrative and creative thinking; group and independent research; oral and written communication; close contact between students and faculty; and integration of class work with the world outside the university. Students can satisfy requirements by choosing from an array of advanced seminars that complement their major studies by participating in study abroad, and/or by undertaking extended research through the groundbreaking Advanced Research and Creativity in Honors (ARCH) program and an Honors-to-Grad (H2G) program that provides stipends to students working with faculty on funded research projects.

Honors students embrace their responsibility to the larger society, and engage in service-research that directly benefits external communities, such as the Worlds Ahead Honors-Sweetwater Partnership. Students also take advantage of lectures by distinguished speakers, professional training dinners and seminars, social activities, the Honors Place living-learning wings in campus housing, partnerships with other university units and colleges, the Honors Education in the Arts (HEARTS) program, and study abroad, with intensive opportunities to study and interact with other cultures.

Dear Alumni:

Spring 2016

On behalf of the FIU Alumni Association and its Board of Directors we extend our congratulations and welcome you to your new family of more than 200,000 alumni. All of our graduates now belong to the FIU Alumni Association – we are no longer charging membership fees! FIU alumni have access to over 125,000 local and national discounts, numerous benefits and services the Association offers.

Your Alumni Association exists to advance the strategic priorities of FIU and to be a viable resource for engaging alumni. Getting involved, either by volunteering your time and talents or by making a tax deductible gift, is a great way for you to show your school pride. The Association helps fund student scholarships, provide career coaching, engage in legislative advocacy, and sponsors many events and activities throughout the year.

The FIU Alumni Association will always be your home away from home! Whenever you are on campus, stop by and pay us a visit in MARC Suite 230 at the Modesto A. Maidique Campus.

Learn more about your Association by visiting our website at fualumni.com, follow us on social media @fualumni and #fualumni, or call 305-348-3334.

In the spirit of Blue & Gold,

Best regards,

Frank J. Peña '99
President, Alumni Association
