"One of the funniest plays of the year as well as one of the wisest and most moving," according to the New York Times' Frank Rich. The play is an account of one woman's commitment to loving others first, and her discovery that giving such love has made her life unbelievably rich, even as she faces her own death.

Marvin's Room deals with coming to terms with the effects of one's actions and with the healing power of love. Winner of the 1991 Dramatists Guild Hull-Warriner Award and the John Gassner Award. Winner of the 1991-1992 Outer Critics Circle Award for Best Off-Broadway Play and the 1991-1992 Drama Desk Award for Best Play.
