Aimé Césaire

It is with great pride that the academic community of Florida International University announces that a degree in honoris causa will be conferred upon Aimé Césaire later this year.

Césaire is a poet, scholar and creator of the concept of "negritude," a philosophical affirmation of black cultural history. Césaire recently described negritude as "the consciousness of a common identity, a feeling that we are loyal to our past, our heritage."

Césaire was the honoree at the February 1987 Florida International University Conference on Negritude, Ethnicity and Afro Cultures in the Americas. It was the first major academic conference on negritude ever held in the United States and the first time Césaire had visited the U.S. in more than 40 years.

Aimé Césaire was invited to receive his degree at this Commencement ceremony but was unable to join us. He will have his degree conferred this summer in Martinique in a special ceremony.

The Commencement:
An Academic Tradition
Michael J. Wagner

At every academic institution, commencement exercises are the high point of the calendar. Since the purpose of a college or university is to prepare its students to merit the conferral of an academic degree, the commencement ceremony serves as the instrument for exhibiting the success of both the university and its students in fulfilling this primary goal.

The rites involved in the celebration of commencement stem from civilized man's earliest times. In fact, the very word, "commencement," means "a beginning."

If you are familiar with the trappings of this grand ceremony, you are aware that the traditions carried forth from medieval days are revealed in all of their pomp, color and symbolism. It is a celebration of new beginnings. For participants and observers alike, commencement is meant to be both a self-serving and an emotional experience.

The Chain of Office

President Modesto "Mitch" Maidique personifies the University at the FIU Commencement. He is the ceremony's convener and chief presider and he wears a great chain, which is the FIU chain of office. This ancient symbol is perhaps the most beautiful and artistic of any of the accoutrements of the ceremony. During the Renaissance, holders of very high office sometimes wore a chain as a symbol of their authority. FIU's chain is made of sterling silver and its designs are cast, cut and etched. The center medallion represents the world and is surrounded by sea shells cast from an actual shell. Reflecting the University and the South Florida area are the eight ovals which make up the chain. Each link is connected by a shell motif and exemplifies a specific entity: 1) the Tamiami Campus tower, 2) the Vrana sculpture over the entrance of Primera Casa, and 3) the Torch of Friendship. The others represent the five original schools in the FIU community: the College of Arts and Sciences, the School of Business, the School of Education, the School of Hospitality Management and the College of Engineering and Applied Sciences. Inscribed upon four of the medallions are the names and dates of tenure of past FIU presidents Charles Perry, Harold Crosby, Gregory Wolfe and the name of President Maidique. The chain was designed by Clem Pennington, associate professor in the School of Education's art education program, and executed by Leo Shirker, a Miami goldsmith, art teacher and FIU alumnus.

The Mace

The Grand Marshal carries a ceremonial club, called a mace. In antiquity, when an official of high rank went out in public, a mace-bearer was assigned to accompany him, in order to literally beat away those who got close enough to try to petition the favors of the official. Today, the bearing of the University's mace is ceremonial in nature, signifying the authority and authenticity of those who are to follow. FIU's "Pennington Mace" is hand-crafted from Haitian mahogany and was designed by Clem Pennington.

Music

Music plays an important part in the commencement experience. The Florida International University Wind Ensemble performs at this year's function. A prelude concert is presented to set the mood. The premiere of a new FIU march "The Sunblazers" (by Michael J. Wagner & Bernard J. Harding, both FIU faculty precedes this year's ceremony. It features a posthorn trio and the FIU Alma Mater as counterpoint to its closing strain. Commencement officially opens with a fanfare (by Bernard J. Harding) played on the FIU posthorns. The academic procession begins with the playing of the processional march, "Pomp and Circumstance March #1," by Sir Edward Elgar. There are ten "Pomp and Circumstance" marches in that set, although the first has become most popular with Americans for use at commencement ceremonies. After the academic body is assembled, our national anthem is played, followed by FIU's Alma Mater. This song of praise and devotion to our University was composed by Clair McElfresh, FIU's dean of Undergraduate Studies. At the conclusion of the ceremony, music is again provided to accompany the exit of the Dramatis Personae. In keeping with the tempo of the ceremony, the Recessional music is played at a slightly faster pace than the music used to process.

Marshals

The leader of the academic procession is the Grand Marshal. At FIU, this prestigious honor goes to the chairperson of the Faculty Senate (the University's governing body for matters academic). You will notice that as the Grand Marshal processes, the mace (a formidable weapon), is held at "port arms" - the "ready" position for quick protection. Other marshals have been appointed to lead candidates for graduation from each of the University's schools, and the University faculty has its own marshal, appointed by the vice president for Academic Affairs.

The Dais Party

The last group in the procession to enter the hall is the dais party. These are the University's administrative leaders and very special guests. The party consists of the president and vice presidents, the registrar, the deans of each of the schools and colleges within the University, student leaders, members of the state Board of Regents (the State University System of Florida's governing body), and invited honored guests, such as the person who is to present the commencement address and recipients of honorary degrees. When those in the dais party reach their seats, the processional is ended. The Grand Marshal declares the proceedings "open," and the ceremony moves forward.

Academic Regalia

The tradition of wearing distinctive academic attire at commencement ceremonies originated in Europe in the twelfth century. However, gowns and capes had been worn by clerics and ecclesiastics even before that date. A heavy black or brown gown was apparently worn at all times. Hoods and capes were also a necessity during the long, cold European winters because the buildings in which scholars lived, studied and taught were cold and drafty. When not being used to provide warmth, hoods and baggy sleeves served the same purpose as do today's pockets. Often a crust of bread or some cheese were tucked away in them for sustenance on a long journey.

The academic costume at English universities (from which many of our American commencement traditions originate) can be traced as far back as the middle of the fourteenth century, to the time when scholars were rebuked that a "decent habit" was to be worn (Statutes of Peterhouse, 1344). This document further prescribed the code of dress for university teachers of that era. In a 1432 statute, students and even doctors of theology were restricted to "bunge and sad-coloured habits." The robes of masters were to be flowing and reach the ankles. In an order dated 1358, tailors were admonished not "to stint the robes," which should be "argae et talaris," because clerks (of whom scholars were one type) "should be distinguished from the laity."

A few universities still require students and faculty to wear a short gown both on and off the university campus. Oxford, Cambridge and some Scottish universities maintain this custom. The faculties of American universities have worn academic garb for commencement ceremonies since the beginning of the system. For almost 250 years, each university chose its own costume until it was realized that, in 1896, an event unique in history would be taking place. This was the simultaneous celebrations of the 250th anniversary of Harvard University and the 500th anniversary of Princeton. Because of this unique circumstance, the Intercollegiate Bureau of Academic Costume was opened in 1895 to record the distinctive colors of institutions, their arrangement, the particulars of gowns, hoods and caps, as well as information pertaining to academic ceremonies. At that time, an American code of academic dress was agreed upon. With few modifications, it is still with us today.

Gowns

Academic gowns of today are most easily identified by the distinctive style of their sleeves. The bachelor's gown is worn closed and its sleeves are long, open and pointed. The master's gown can be worn either open or closed, and has long distinctive sleeves which are closed, with a slit near the elbow to free the hand and forearm. These pointed sleeves hang down from the elbow to below the hand. The doctor's gown can be worn either opened or closed, and has five inches of velvet trim down both front edges, and three velvet chevrons on each sleeve. The velvet trim may be either black or the color of the discipline in which the degree is granted. The sleeves are closed and bloused.

Hoods

Probably the greatest degree of symbolism is expressed with the academic hood. Those who hold bachelor's degrees and participate in commencement sometimes wear a hood. Candidates for the bachelor's degree do not. The bachelor's hood is black and is three feet long, with a two-inch velvet border in the color of the faculty in which the degree is awarded. The master's hood is also of black material, and is three-and-one-half feet long with a three-inch velvet border in the color of the discipline. It is lined with the colors of the institution conferring the degree. The doctor's hood is four feet long, has a five-inch velvet border in the color of the discipline, and is lined with the colors of the institution granting the degree.

Caps

Traditionally, the "Oxford style" square cap is considered "proper headdress." In recent times, however, it has become stylish to wear a soft cap of either square or octagonal shape. All graduates wear a tassel over the left side of the cap. Bachelor's and master's tassels may be black or the color of the academic discipline, while doctor's tassels are always gold.

These are by no means all of the styles or accoutrements worn as academic dress. Indeed, in South American, Spanish and Dutch universities, the academic attire can be likened to "plumage." It is not uncommon to see brightly colored gowns adorned with ermine and other furs, flowing capes, and caps trimmed with beads or tassels. Some universities in South America even add Indian feathers to the headdress, in honor of the Inca Indians.

At Florida International University, whose colors are blue and gold, the traditional colors of the disciplines are:

College of Arts and Sciences	White
College of Business Administration	Drab
College of Education	Light Blue
College of Engineering & Applied Sciences	Orange
School of Health Sciences	Green
School of Hospitality Management	Navy Blue
School of Nursing	Peach
School of Public Affairs and Services	Peacock Blue

La Graduación: Una Tradición Académica Michael J. Wagner

En toda institución académica el día de la graduación es la fecha culminante del año. Si se considera que el objetivo primordial de toda universidad es preparar a sus estudiantes para hacerse acreedores de un grado académico, resulta evidente que la ceremonia de investidura de los graduandos sirve para patentizar el éxito alcanzado tanto por el estudiante como por la universidad.

Los rituales propios de esta celebración se remontan a tiempos inmemoriales, quizás a los albores mismos de la civilización. En inglés esta ceremonia recibe el nombre de commencement que significa comienzo, el comienzo de una nueva vida para el ex-estudiante que se gradúa. Añejas tradiciones provenientes de la Edad Media se manifiestan cumplidamente a través del fausto y el boato característicos de tan magna ceremonia. Es la celebración del advenimiento de un hombre nuevo, animado por el saber y la virtud. La ceremonia de graduación es un evento emotivo y a la vez, una genuina experiencia educativa tanto para los graduados como para aquellos que la observan.

El Gran Collar Rectoral

El Rector Maidique representa a la Universidad en la ceremonia de graduación. Es él quien la convoca y preside, y para la ocasión usa el Gran Collar que le corresponde en su calidad de primer dignatario de este plantel. Esta prenda es de uso tradicional entre los rectores universitarios y es, quizás, el más bello y artístico símbolo entre los que se usan en la ceremonia de investidura académica. Durante el Renacimiento los titulares de altos cargos usaban collares semejantes como símbolo de su jerarquía. El Gran Collar del Rector de FIU está hecho de plata macisa y sus segmentos constitutivos han sido fundidos, labrados y grabados. El medallón central representa al orbe terráqueo y está rodeado de caracoles marinos fundidos en base a un caracol natural. Los ocho medallones ovales que forman el collar representan a la universidad y al territorio del sur de la Florida en que la misma está enclavada. Cada uno de estos segmentos va unido al otro mediante un eslabón en forma de un caracol de metal, tres de ellos representan una entidad determinada: la torre del Recinto de Tamiami, la escultura de Vrana que adorna el frontis de la Primera Casa y la Antorcha de la Amistad. Los cinco restantes representan las cinco primeras facultades de nuestro centro docente, a saber: la de Humanidades y Ciencias, la de Ciencias Comerciales, la de Educación, la de Hostelería, y la de Ingeniería y Ciencias Aplicadas. En tres de estos medallones están inscritos los nombres de los dos primeros rectores de FIU, los doctores Charles Perry, Harold Crosby y Gregory Wolfe, así como las fechas de sus rectorados, también aparece el nombre del Dr. Maidique. El Gran collar fue diseñado por el Dr. Clement Pennington, catedrático de FIU y llevado a cabo por el orfebre miamense Leo Shirken, profesor de arte y ex-alumno de nuestra universidad.

La Maza Ceremonial

El Gran Maestro de Campo lleva en las manos la Maza Ceremonial. En la antigüedad cuando un funcionario de alto rango se presentaba en público, un macero le acompañaba a fin de, literalmente, aporrear a los que tratasen de acercársele para pedirle favores. Hoy en día el papel del macero es únicamente protocolar, y su maza simboliza la autoridad y dignidad de aquellos que la siguen. Nuestra maza ceremonial se llama la Pennington Mace y fue tallada a mano en caoba haitiana siguiendo el diseño del Dr. Clement Pennington, Director del Programa de Educación Artística de la Escuela de Educación.

La música

La música desempeña un papel muy importante el día de la graduación. Este año la parte musical de la misma estará a cargo del Conjunto de Instrumentos de Viento de FIU. Primero tocará un preludeo para sentar el tono. Después, en premiere, ejecutará una nueva marcha dedicada a la universidad: The Sunblazers. Es original de los profesores Michael J. Wagner y Bernard B. Harding, ambos de nuestra casa de estudios. En la misma se destaca un trío de clarines y el himno Alma Mater como contrapunto a su melodía final. La ceremonia comenzará oficialmente con la interpretación de una fanfarria original del Prof. Bernard J. Harding que ejecutarán los clarines de FIU. La procesión académica se iniciará a los acordes de la marcha Pompa y Circunstancia #1, original de Sir Edward Elgar. Hay diez diferentes marchas dentro de este grupo de composiciones pero la número uno es la preferida para las graduaciones en este país. Cuando todos los dignatarios hayan ocupado su puesto en el estrado presidencial, se ejecutará nuestro Himno Nacional y después se entonará Alma Mater. Este último es un canto en honor de FIU y una muestra de la devoción a ella de su autor: el Dr. Clair Mc. Elfresh, nuestro Decano de Estudios Generales. Al final de la ceremonia se ejecutarán otras piezas musicales para acompañar la salida de las Dramatis Personae. Esta música será más rápida a tenor del tempo de la ceremonia que llega a su fin.

Los Maestros de Campo

El Gran Maestro de Campo es quien dirige la procesión académica. En nuestra universidad esta dignidad ceremonial recae en el Presidente del Senado Académico, organismo universitario que rige las cuestiones docentes. Mientras desfila, el Gran Maestro de Campo lleva en las manos la Maza Ceremonial en la posición conocida entre los militares como "portar armas", esto es, lista para entrar en acción. Otros maestros de campo guían a los graduandos de las diversas facultades. El Claustro Universitario tiene su propio maestro de campo el cual es nombrado por el Vice-Rector de Asuntos Académicos.

Los integrantes del estrado presidencial

El último grupo de funcionarios que entra en el salón de ceremonias es el de los integrantes del estrado presidencial, llamados en inglés el Dais Party. El mismo está compuesto por los principales funcionarios ejecutivos de la universidad y los invitados de honor. Entre ellos se cuentan el Rector, los Vice-Rectores, el Registrador de la Universidad, los Decanos de las diversas facultades y escuelas universitarias, los miembros del Consejo de Regencia del Sistema Universitario del Estado de la Florida, y los invitados de honor, especialmente el orador invitado a pronunciar el Discurso de Investidura y los doctorandos honoris causa. Cuando todos los miembros de este grupo se han sentado, la procesión académica toca a su fin, entonces el Gran Maestro de Campo declara abierto el acto y la ceremonia de investidura propiamente dicha comienza.

El Atavío Académico

La tradición de usar trajes académicos característicos en la ceremonia de graduación se originó en Europa alrededor del Siglo XII. Sin embargo, los monjes y clérigos habían venido usando algo semejante incluso antes de esa fecha. Una túnica o sotana de tela gruesa, de color marrón o negro, se usaba de diario. Los capirotos y las mucetas se hacían necesarias durante los largos y crudos inviernos europeos ya que los edificios donde los universitarios y sus profesores vivían, estudiaban o enseñaban eran fríos y llenos de corrientes de aire. En verano los capirotos y las anchas mangas servían de bolsillos. Allí se guardaban, a menudo, pedazos de pan o de queso que servían de sustento en largos y lentos viajes.

El atuendo académico norteamericano halla sus orígenes en el de las universidades inglesas de mediados del Siglo XIV cuando a los universitarios - maestros y discípulos por igual - se les ordenó usar "un hábito decente" (Estatutos de Peterhouse, 1344). En una disposición de 1432 se ordenó a los estudiantes y hasta a los doctores en teología, el usar hábitos de tela basta y de colores sombríos. Las togas de los catedráticos debían ser anchas y llegarles hasta los tobillos. En una orden que data del año 1358, se mandó a los sastres a que no ahorrasen tela en las ropas académicas que debían ser largae et talaris (largas y clericales) porque los clérigos - y la mayor parte de los estudiantes lo eran - debían de distinguirse de los seglares.

En nuestros días, algunas universidades - muy pocas - exigen que sus alumnos y catedráticos usen una toga corta dentro del recinto universitario e incluso fuera de él. Oxford, Cambridge y algunas universidades escocesas mantienen esa tradición. Los profesores de las universidades de este país han venido usando el atuendo académico para la ceremonia de graduación desde la época de la fundación de Harvard. Durante 250 años cada universidad tuvo la prerrogativa de determinar el estilo de su indumentaria académica. En 1895 con motivo de la celebración coetánea al año siguiente del sesquicentenario de la fundación de la Universidad de Heidelberg, del sesquicentenario de la fundación de Harvard y del sesquicentenario de la fundación de Princeton, se organizó una entidad, el Intercollegiate Bureau of Academic Custom (la Oficina Interuniversitaria del Atavío Académico), encargado de inscribir para perpetua memoria los colores propios de cada universidad, su combinación y arreglo, los detalles de las togas, capirotos y birretes, así como toda la información acerca del desarrollo de las ceremonias de investiduras académicas. por acuerdo de todas las universidades se adoptaron un conjunto de normas reguladoras del atavío académico. Este acuerdo están en vigor todavía.

Las togas

Las togas académicas de nuestra época se identifican por la forma en que están confeccionadas las mangas. La toga de bachelor, se lleva cerrada, las mangas son largas, abiertas y punteagudas. La toga de master se lleva abierta o cerrada y tiene unas mangas que llegan hasta el codo donde se abren, dejando al descubierto el antebrazo y la mano. Estas mangas punteagudas cuelgan hasta más abajo de la mano. La toga de doctor se lleva también abierta o cerrada, está adornada con un ribete de terciopelo de cinco pulgadas de ancho a cada lado por el frente; lleva igualmente tres galones de terciopelo en cada manga al nivel del brazo. Los adornos de terciopelo pueden ser de color negro o del color de la disciplina en la cual se confirió el doctorado. Las mangas son cerradas y muy anchas.

Los capirotos

El capirote encierra el mayor simbolismo de toda la indumentaria académica. Los graduados de bachelor que participan en la ceremonia de investidura a veces usan un capirote pero los graduandos que van a recibir esa láurea no lo hacen. El capirote del bachelor es negro y tiene tres pies de largo, con un borde de terciopelo de dos pulgadas de ancho del color de la disciplina en que se recibe el grado. El de master es negro, de tres pies y medio de largo, con un borde de terciopelo de tres pulgadas de ancho y del color de la disciplina correspondiente. Está forrado en seda con los colores de la universidad que confiere la láurea. El de doctor tiene cuatro pies de largo, con un borde de terciopelo de cinco pulgadas de ancho del color de la disciplina del doctorado, va forrado con los colores de la universidad que confiere el grado.

Los birretes

Tradicionalmente en este país el birrete cuadrado, estilo Oxford, se considera como el tocado adecuado para el traje académico. Sin embargo, recientemente se ha comenzado a estilizar el uso de un birrete suave, de forma cuadrada u octagonal. Todos los graduados usan la borla en el lado izquierdo, los graduandos en el derecho. Las borlas correspondientes a los dos primeros grados académicos ya mencionados pueden ser negras o del color de la disciplina de que se trate, las de doctor siempre son doradas.

Lo anteriormente expuesto se refiere únicamente a la indumentaria académica en uso en los EE. UU. En Sud América, España y Holanda los trajes académicos son mucho más vistosos. No es raro ver togas de colores brillantes, adornadas con armiño u otras pieles, capas ondulantes y birretes adornados con borlas y con cuentas. En algunas universidades de la América del Sur usan plumas de indígenas en honor de sus antepasados Incas. En la Universidad Internacional de la Florida (FIU), cuyos colores oficiales son el azul y el dorado, los colores correspondientes a cada una de las facultades que integran la universidad son los siguientes:

Escuela de Asuntos y Servicios Públicos	Azul brillante
Facultad de Ciencias Comerciales	Pardo
Escuela de Ciencias de la Salud	Verde
Facultad de Educación	Celeste
Escuela de Enfermería	Melocotón
Escuela de Hostelería	Azul oscuro
Facultad de Humanidades y Ciencias	Blanco

Modesto (Mitch) A. Maidique, Ph.D.

Modesto Maidique, professor and executive, was selected in 1986 as the President of Florida International University (FIU). He is the first and only Cuban-born president of any United States University.

Maidique earned his Bachelor & Master of Science degrees in Electrical Engineering as well as his Ph.D. by 1970 from MIT (Massachusetts Institute of Technology). Maidique co-founded Analog Devices, Inc., Semiconductor Division, one of the second largest producers of high-performance linear integrated circuits in the country.

After completing the Harvard Business School's Program for Management Development (PMD) for senior management executives, Maidique, at the age of 39, became the youngest professor to teach in Harvard University's Business Administration Department.

As an Associate Professor at Stanford University from 1981-1982, Maidique taught industrial marketing and management of high-tech companies and conducted doctoral seminars in the management of technology in the Engineering Management Department.

At the same time as his academic experience grew, Maidique established himself as a corporate consultant, working for such companies as Rockwell International, IBM, Texas Instruments, Honeywell, to name a few. In 1981 he became President and Chief Executive Officer of Collaborative Research, Inc. a Massachusetts based company which conducts research on advanced genetic engineering techniques. He continued to involve himself with numerous projects including writing articles for professional journals such as The Art of High Technology Management. In 1984 Maidique became General Partner for Hambrecht & Quist Venture Partners, a privately held international venture capital company which has one of the largest portfolios in the world. Mitch Maidique was in charge of the 12-state southeast region. He was responsible for investing over $10 million in southeast region companies which are high-tech oriented and develop, manufacture and market computer software and computer networking products.

Mitch is married to Ana Margarita Hernandez and has two children by a previous marriage, Ana Teresa and Mark Alex.

The Maidiques reside in the 1924 historic home of Coral Gables city designer George Merrick.

Modesto (Mitch) A. Maidique, Ph.D.

Modesto Maidique, profesor y empresario, designado en 1986 rector de la Universidad Internacional de la Florida (FIU), es el único cubano en E.E.U.U. que preside una universidad norteamericana.

Maidique obtiene sus títulos de "Bachelor" y "Masters of Science" en Ingeniería Eléctrica así como un Doctorado (Ph.D.) en ese campo de 1962-70, en M.I.T. (Massachusetts Institute of Technology). Maidique también ayuda a fundar Analog Devices Semiconductor, empresa especializada en manufacturar productos electrónicos de gran sofisticación.

Al finalizar sus estudios en el Programa para Desarrollo de Administradores (PMD) de la Universidad de Harvard, Maidique se convierte poco después en el profesor más joven del Programa Avanzado de Administración de Empresas de Harvard (AMP).

Como Profesor Asociado en la Universidad de Stanford de 1981 a 1982, Maidique impartió clases sobre mercadeo industrial y la administración de compañías de alta tecnología. Condujo también seminarios a nivel de posgrado sobre la administración de tecnología en el departamento de "Engineering Management".

Al mismo tiempo que crece su experiencia académica, Maidique logra establecerse en el campo de la consultoría empresarial. Suministra servicios a grandes compañías, tales como Rockwell International, IBM, Texas Instruments, Honeywell, etc. En 1981, es nombrado Presidente y Jefe Ejecutivo de Collaborative Research, Inc., importante empresa dentro de la rama de la ingeniería genética y se mantiene muy activo en otros proyectos empresariales y profesionales. Por ejemplo, se asocia al Instituto de Ingeniería Eléctrica y Electrónica, participa activamente en la Asociación de Ingenieros Cubanos y en varias juntas editoriales de prestigiosas publicaciones, tales como Journal of High Technology Marketing. Desde 1984 también desempeña una importante labor empresarial como socio general de Hambrecht & Quist Venture Partners. La zona bajo su responsabilidad incluía doce estados en la región del Sudeste de E.E.U.U. Las compañías en las que invierte Hambrecht & Quist son principalmente orientadas a la alta tecnología.

Modesto Maidique está casado con Ana Margarita Hernández y tiene dos hijos, Ana Teresa y Mark Alex. Los Maidiques residen actualmente en la casa que construyó George Merrick, el urbanizador de Coral Gables, en 1924.

Rosemary Barkett

On October 14, 1985, Rosemary Barkett was appointed Justice on the Supreme Court of the State of Florida, becoming the 21st woman to serve on the higher courts of the United States.

Only fifteen months earlier, Barkett had been elevated by then-Governor Bob Graham from Circuit Court Judge, where she served for five years, to the appellate bench of the Fourth District Court of Appeals.

At that time, Governor Graham cited Justice Barkett's "record of humanity, service, legal talent, professionalism and judicial demeanor, which speak for her qualification."

Barkett's first appointment to the bench came only nine years after she graduated from the University of Florida Law School, where she received the J. Hillis Miller Memorial Award, presented to the outstanding senior graduate of the School.

Rosemary Barkett's path to the Florida Supreme Court was a varied one. She spent eight years as a Roman Catholic nun and several years as a school teacher after leaving the convent. She graduated Summa Cum Laude from Spring Hill College in Mobile, Alabama in 1967 with a Bachelor in Science.

Among her many awards and recognitions, Justice Barkett counts her 1986 induction into the Florida Women's Hall of Fame and the 1986 Judicial Achievement Award for the State of Florida, presented to her by the Trial Lawyers of America in recognition of her outstanding efforts as a lawyer and a jurist in championing and protecting the rights of the individual.

Justice Barkett was born in Ciudad Victoria, Mexico, and her family is in agribusiness in South Dade.

Rosemary Barkett

El 14 de octubre de 1985, Rosemary Barkett fue nombrada magistrado de la Corte Suprema del Estado de la Florida, convirtiéndose así en la vigésimo primera mujer que presta servicios en los tribunales superiores de los Estados Unidos.

Sólo quince meses antes, Barkett había sido ascendida por Bob Graham, entonces Gobernador de la Florida, de su cargo como Juez del Tribunal de Circuito, que ocupó por cinco años, al cargo de juez del Tribunal de Apelación del Cuarto Distrito.

En esa ocasión, el Gobernador Graham habló de Rosemary Barkett y de su "expediente de humanidad, servicio, talento legal y profesionalismo en el desempeño de sus funciones de juez, expediente que por sí mismo refleja su capacidad."

Sólo nueve años después de graduarse de la Facultad de Derecho de la Universidad de la Florida, donde recibió el Premio en Memoria de J. Hillis Miller, que se otorga al estudiante más destacado de la clase, Barkett recibió su primer nombramiento a una corte de justicia.

El camino recorrido por Rosemary Barkett antes de llegar a la Corte Suprema de la Florida fue variado. Estuvo ocho años en un convento católico como monja, y varios años como maestra después de dejar el convento. Se graduó Summa Cum Laude del Spring Hill College en Mobile, Alabama en 1967 con un título de "Bachelor in Science".

Entre los muchos premios y reconocimientos que ha recibido, la Magistrado Barkett destaca que en 1986 fue incluida en el Hall de la Fama de las Mujeres de la Florida, y el "Judicial Achievement Award" del Estado de la Florida, que le fue otorgado por "Trial Lawyers of America", en reconocimiento a sus sobresalientes esfuerzos como abogada y jurista, y a su defensa y protección de los derechos del individuo.

La Magistrado Barkett nació en Ciudad Victoria, México. Su familia se dedica a negocios agrícolas en el Sur del Condado de Dade.

William J. Bennett

William J. Bennett has served as United States Secretary of Education since February 6, 1985, following unanimous confirmation by the Senate.

A native of Brooklyn, New York, Secretary Bennett holds a bachelor of art degree in philosophy from Williams College, a doctorate in political philosophy from the University of Texas, and a law degree from Harvard University. He taught at University of Southern Mississippi, the University of Texas, Harvard University, Boston University, and the University of Wisconsin before becoming Director and later President of the National Humanities Center in North Carolina. In 1981, he was selected by President Reagan to be Chairman of the National Endowment for the Humanities, where he served until assuming his current position.

The Secretary is committed to the principle of excellence at all levels of American education. This commitment is indicated by his report while at the Endowment, To Reclaim a Legacy, which focused on the liberal arts and higher education. His views are set forth in more detail in three recent publications of the Education Department: What Works, which provides research findings on effective practices in teaching and learning; First Lessons, which is the first national report in three decades to assess elementary education and recommend reforms; and Schools Without Drugs, a handbook on prevention of drug abuse in schools. In less than ten weeks, over one million copies of Schools Without Drugs were distributed to the American public free of charge.

Secretary Bennett's educational philosophy and policies are based in part on what he called the "3 Cs": Content, Character, and Choice. These principles underline the need for a return to basics—to teach a strong core curriculum and to instill respect for the classics and their mastery, to develop strong moral character in young Americans, and to promote parental choice and involvement. The Secretary's initiatives also include proposals for reform of bilingual education programs (with a greater emphasis on mastery of English and on local control). He has also spoken out on such issues as the importance of the family and the academic and moral responsibilities of college and university administrators, faculty, and students.

William J. Bennett

William J. Bennett ha fungido como Secretario de Educación de los Estados Unidos desde el 6 de febrero de 1985, fecha en que el Senado ratificó unánimemente su nombramiento.

Nacido en Brooklyn, Nueva York, Bennett obtuvo el título de "Bachelor of Arts" en filosofía del Williams College, un doctorado en filosofía política de la Universidad de Texas y su título de abogado de la Universidad de Harvard. El Secretario de Educación fue profesor en las universidades del Sur de Mississippi, Texas, Boston y Wisconsin y en la de Harvard, antes de ocupar el cargo de Director, y más tarde de Presidente del Centro Nacional de Humanidades de Carolina del Norte. En 1981, el Presidente Reagan seleccionó a William J. Bennett para dirigir la "National Endowment for the Humanities" (La Fundación Nacional de las Humanidades), cargo que ocupó hasta asumir sus obligaciones actuales.

El Secretario Bennett es un fervoroso creyente en los principios de excelencia a todos los niveles de la educación en Estados Unidos, como lo muestra su informe "To Reclaim a Legacy" (La Reclamación de un Legado), escrito durante sus años en la Fundación antes mencionada, y que se concentra en las letras y las artes y en la educación superior. Sus puntos de vista están expuestos más detalladamente en tres publicaciones recientes del Departamento de Educación: "What Works" (Las cosas que funcionan), que ofrece resultados de investigaciones sobre métodos efectivos de enseñanza y aprendizaje; "First Lessons" (Primeras Lecciones), el primer informe nacional en tres décadas que evalúa la educación elemental y recomienda reformas y "Schools Without Drugs" (Escuelas sin drogas), una guía para la prevención del abuso de drogas en las escuelas. En menos de diez semanas, más de un millón de ejemplares de "Escuelas sin drogas" fueron distribuidas gratis al pueblo americano.

La filosofía y la política de Bennett con respecto a la educación se basa en 3 principios: contenido, carácter y la posibilidad de escoger alternativas. Estos principios subrayan la necesidad de regresar a ciertos fundamentos básicos – un programa de estudios que enfatice las asignaturas esenciales y que inculque respeto a los clásicos y a sus enseñanzas; el desarrollo de un fuerte carácter moral en los jóvenes americanos; y mayor participación de los padres al escoger las distintas alternativas que ofrecen los programas de educación. Las iniciativas del Secretario de Educación Bennett incluyen asimismo propuestas para reformar los programas de educación bilingüe (dando mayor énfasis al dominio del inglés y al control local de los programas). Bennett también ha hecho declaraciones sobre temas como la importancia de la familia y la responsabilidad académica y moral de los funcionarios, profesores y estudiantes universitarios.
