Art Spiegelman

From the Steven Barclay Agency:

The videos below are organized by topic and run between 60 seconds to 3 minutes. They are subtitled for the deaf and hard of hearing. The audio consists of playlists, interviews, and extracts from the audiobook. The titles of his latest book, MetaMaus: A Metacommentary on Maus, can be heard from 1:16 min. onwards.

The videos include a series of musical compositions by Phillip Johnston, an interview with Art by Ahron Rabinovitch, a discussion with Françoise Mouly, and a number of mini-essays on the use of the graphic novel in storytelling. In one of the mini-essays, Art discusses the importance of comics in today's world, and how they can be used to convey important stories and messages.