Pat Bosch, Design Director at Perkins + Will

A native New Yorker from the other side of a city divided by the East River, Pat Bosch is a thought leader in the architecture profession at the epicenter of social and economic challenges confronting our communities across the world. As a key representative of Perkins+Will’s design leadership, she has participated in nationally recognized industry journals. As a founding member of the Design Leadership Council, she has helped the firm to establish a vibrant, cohesive design philosophy, culture, and practice. As a leading figure in the architecture profession, she has been recognized for her design work specializing in a diversity of sectors ranging from education to healthcare. Bosch’s design awards both nationally and internationally, and work has been published in numerous architectural magazines and client publications.

As a Design Director, Bosch has had the opportunity to practice regionally and internationally. She has helped the firm to establish a design philosophy, culture, and practice. The firm’s David Rinnhofer, Editor: John Perez. Photo & Design: Raymond Elman.

The videos below are organized by topic and run between 30 seconds and 5 minutes. Click on any video. You must be connected to the Internet to view the videos.

The videos below are organized by topic and run between 30 seconds and 5 minutes. Click on any video. You must be connected to the Internet to view the videos.

A native New Yorker from the other side of a city divided by the East River, Pat Bosch is a thought leader in the architecture profession at the epicenter of social and economic challenges confronting our communities across the world. As a key representative of Perkins+Will’s design leadership, she has participated in nationally recognized industry journals. As a founding member of the Design Leadership Council, she has helped the firm to establish a vibrant, cohesive design philosophy, culture, and practice. As a leading figure in the architecture profession, she has been recognized for her design work specializing in a diversity of sectors ranging from education to healthcare. Bosch’s design awards both nationally and internationally, and work has been published in numerous architectural magazines and client publications.

As a Design Director, Bosch has had the opportunity to practice regionally and internationally. She has helped the firm to establish a design philosophy, culture, and practice. The firm’s David Rinnhofer, Editor: John Perez. Photo & Design: Raymond Elman.

The videos below are organized by topic and run between 30 seconds and 5 minutes. Click on any video. You must be connected to the Internet to view the videos.

The videos below are organized by topic and run between 30 seconds and 5 minutes. Click on any video. You must be connected to the Internet to view the videos.
VALUES FIRST-RATE EDUCATION:  1:38 min.

CREATES A UNIQUE PERSONAL BRAND:  4:46 min.

If we include images of your projects when we publish this interview, which projects should we include?

SEIZES OPPORTUNITIES:  4:01 min.

How will your practice change over the next 10 years?

COLLABORATION:  2:23 min.

What is the role of collaboration in the profession today?

Describe your experience at Columbia University.