INVISIBLE FRIENDS

WRITTEN BY ALAN AYCKBOURN • DIRECTED BY THERALD TODD

Written by England's most successful contemporary playwright, this play combines comedy with a bit of magic. The story takes a teenage girl into a fantasy world when her imaginary friend comes to life. It begins as a comic lark but turns sinister before she is rescued. The play was a sold-out success when performed at Britain's Royal National Theatre.

A unique feature of this play is the audience it is intended for. As the playwright says "It's actually written for that most difficult creature of all, the family audience." He says that it's appropriate for audiences from ages 7 to 97. The play is about families and how they get on with each other. We think that it's a wonderful play to see as a family and to encourage this, we are offering a family special. For the Thursday evening and Sunday afternoon performances, April 7, 10, 14 and 17, children who attend with a least one adult will be admitted for $2.00.

We agree with the playwright when he said "The picture of a family all together, sharing the same experience - all perhaps with a different perception but nonetheless each enjoying each other's enjoyment - can be as rewarding a sight as anything I know."
