Opportunity for FIU Undergraduate Students Inter-University Program for Latino Research: Summer Institute for Latino Public Policy

June 16–21, 2013

Twenty young scholars convene in Washington, D.C., for a one-week intensive training and orientation to public policy and legislative processes through a series of seminars, workshops, site visits to national organizations, and meetings with Congressional representatives. This is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to join a nationwide network of young people with an interest in public policy. Past participants have been inspired and empowered by this fantastic hands-on program.

The Latin American and Caribbean Center (LACC) and the Cuban Research Institute (CRI) will sponsor three outstanding undergraduate students to represent FIU at the Institute. All expenses related to the program will be covered (round-trip air and local transportation, lodging at the George Washington University dormitories, meals, and classroom materials). Participants are responsible for covering medical and travel insurance and incidental expenses.

Complete applications are due in the LACC office (DM 353) no later than 5:00 p.m., Monday, April 15, 2013.

Program information and application can be found in the CRI website at <http://cri.fiu.edu/programs/silpp/>. For more information, call CRI at (305) 348-1991.
