The people you meet teach you the most

CHARLIE GRAU
Senior Staff Writer

Often, I am asked what my favorite sport is, and I always say, “People.” I collect people.

–Dick Schaap, Journalist

During my two and a half years at FIU, I had a chance to meet an assortment of characters: a university president, a porn star, a presidential candidate, comedians, future pro athletes, a New York Times war correspondent and more. That’s quite a list for someone just 23 years old. But then there’s another group of people I got to know. The people I interacted with daily. The people that helped make me who I am today. The people we end up calling friends, professors or colleagues.

It’s this collection of people that make up FIU, not a diploma, but the impression it leaves on you.

Former chancellor, professor appointed to top job

JULIO MENACHE
Staff Writer

Mark Rosenberg, former chancellor of the Florida Board of Governors, has been named FIU’s president, succeeding Modesto A. Maidique as the University’s fifth president.

The decision was made at a 11:30 a.m. meeting of the Board of Trustees on April 25.

The other two candidates, Ronald Berkman, FIU provost and vice president of Academic Affairs, and Carlos Santiago, chancellor of the University of Wisconsin, dropped out of the race yesterday and this morning respectively.

Berkman accepted a job in Ohio as chancellor of the Cleveland State University.

In a written statement, Santiago said he has decided to “continue the important work that we have started at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee.”

Many of Rosenberg’s supporters were ecstatic to hear the news.

“I’m happy for FIU,” said Hilda Mitrani, director of Multilingual Media & Marketing Inc., who formed a Facebook group looking to gain student support for Rosenberg. “Mark is a wonderful leader. He knows our community and he is a part of our community.”

Rosenberg, who had showed interest in the job as early as November, was not in the initial list of 15 candidates who submitted resumes for the presidency in early April.

It wasn’t until April 14, three days before the official deadline to submit names, that Rosenberg was included in a list of 34 candidates to be submitted to the Presidential Search Advisory Committee.

Rosenberg, who has served as provost for the University from 1998 to 2005 and

ROSENBERG, page 2

These are lessons you can’t get from books

SUSANA RODRIGUEZ
Life! Editor

After four long years I’m finally done – not almost or sort of finished, but done. No more parking lot traffic jams or four-hour lines at the registration office for me. I’m a graduate now.

In four years I’ve learned about Italian Renaissance art, 19th century French painting, Dante’s Divine Comedy, John Donne’s sonnets and everything Shakespeare ever wrote.

But that’s just book learning, good for graduate school or starting a career. In terms of life skills, it’s FIU that’s taught me everything I need to know.

PUNCTUALITY IS RELATIVE

It’s never too early to start making the list at registration to sort out your schedule or squeeze in your classes.

RODRIGUEZ, page 2

Life got in the way, but I’m finally done

EDDITH SEVILLA
Asst. Life! Editor

I graduated high school in 1999. Ten years later, I am finally getting my bachelor’s degree.

I’ve often asked myself why I allowed 10 years to pass me by before I earned my degree. Most times I can’t come up with an answer that justifies the decisions I have made. Other times I remind myself that “life takes you where to go,” as the good ‘ol Green Day song goes.

Today I am wearing a blue cap and gown, and I’m in disbelief that this day has finally come. For many years when I struggled with chemistry, statistics and algebra – my intended major was nursing – I despised. When the going got tough, my college diploma seemed like a fantasy. And as I watched most of my high SEVILLA, page 2
Mistakes prepare you for future challenges

GRAU, page 1

The guilt of the accident consumed him for some time and it took almost a year for him to realize the positives that came out of the accident. “I have to tell people now. I’m not ashamed of it anymore. It opened my eyes to what I have,” he said. And talk about it he has. Now Bonilla openly talks his accident with friends and warns them how one “stupid mistake” can change our lives forever.

More mature and responsible coming out of the wreck, Bonilla stands with us today, ready for graduation. Beyond the lessons he learned in his journalism classes, he learned not to put himself in positions that can really hurt him.

“It was a good thing that it happened because until I got bitten really, really hard, I wasn’t going to stop pushing.”

College gives us the chance to grow, change and make mistakes— even if they’re as big as a car accident. The margin for error is shrinking for us, but let me tell you in a little secret.

“Don’t be looking for mistakes and we’re still going to keep on learning.”

And that’s one impression Bonilla has left on me and other people’s heart.

What impressions have you left on people while at FIU? It’s still not too late. Just hurry up because I think they’re about to call your name.

Regardless of the route, you’ve made it this far school friends graduate from college, I feel proud.

SEVILLA, page 1

But I’m not the only one. I share this life experience with many who are all passing through, me or who have already sat on this chair. That is not to say that the reason people remain in college for so long is because their parietal lobes don’t function properly. No, in fact there is a number of reasons.

Some of us started our families early and had to quit school to start growing a family. But this still doesn’t mean that they’re giving up on their education. Many people have just decided that it’s the only way to maintain a quality of life and that’s a better way to go.

The result? We’re still going to make mistakes. And we’re still going to keep on learning.

And that’s one impression Bonilla has left on me and other people’s heart.

What impressions have you left on people while at FIU? It’s still not too late. Just hurry up because I think they’re about to call your name.

DON’T WASTE TIME

In a few more minutes to study before a big test. Be careful though: Being early lets you pick where you sit, being late lets you pick who you sit next to. If you’re always early you’ll never be stuck in a bad seat, but you’ll also never get the chance to strike a conversation with the sexy someone that catches your eye.

You don’t have to be the first to arrive, but choose your tardies wisely. Not everyone’s worth your time.

Don’t be looking for mistakes and we’re still going to keep on learning.

And that’s one impression Bonilla has left on me and other people’s heart.

What impressions have you left on people while at FIU? It’s still not too late. Just hurry up because I think they’re about to call your name.

Rosenberg: ‘We are going to build on the strong legacy’ acting president from February to June, Rosenberg said this is the honor of a lifetime.

ROSENBERG, page 1

"I’m thrilled that the University and the community have faith in my ability to lead FIU," said Rosenberg in a recent video interview with the University. "We are going to build on the strong legacy that ‘Mitch’ Maidique has graced us with … that this university move to its next level."

Rosenberg will succeed Maidique, who has served as FIU’s president for 23 years.

Last Thursday, Maidique along with 10 presidents of Florida’s public university system, visited Tallahassee to protest further cuts by the state legislature. The Florida Senate has proposed $250 million cut in state government funding for public universities, while the Senate plan doubles the amount of cuts to $500 million, as well as a $100 million reduction in university employee salaries.

According to an e-mail by Maidique to the University community, FIU could face a $44 million cut in state aid.

"A 38 percent cut to the University’s state support would dramatically alter FIU as you know it," Maidique said last Thursday. Rosenberg did not rule out the possibility of raising tuition.

“We’re in the budget crisis of our lives,” he said to audience members. “It’s a challenge that we’re facing together. Sadly, the only way to maintain a quality education at this time may be tuition increases. If I am president, however, my first priorities will be finance and budget.”

‘Never doubt the power of your own words’: Be kind yet firm

RODRIGUEZ, page 1

in a few more minutes to study before a big test. Be careful though: Being early lets you pick where you sit, being late lets you pick who you sit next to. If you’re always early you’ll never be stuck in a bad seat, but you’ll also never get the chance to strike a conversation with the sexy someone that catches your eye.

You don’t have to be the first to arrive, but choose your tardies wisely. Not everyone’s worth your time.

DON’T WASTE TIME

Having a seven-floor library is both a blessing and a curse: infinite resources, infinite ground to cover. Sometimes I take one entire赛季 when you spend at the reference desk asking where you can find books you need is one hour you save yourself for later.

Apply this asking-for-directions bit to traveling and to romantic relationships. You’ll find you’ll have time to enjoy scenic routes on trips and more time to enjoy the one you love rather than wasting it pulling out your car keys to the parking meter while you’re still thinking about the phone call you received.

TALK THINGS OUT

Deadlines are flexible despite what three-paragraph warning professors may engrave in their syllabi. Don’t be afraid to ask for extensions in life. Almost anything you can think of can be resolved with a good argument in your defense: tardies, absences, late papers. Finals and grades, however, require magic adjectives and notarized documents you may or may not always have immediate access to. Ask sparingly, but never doubt the power of your own words.

Remember to not wait too long before you ask, though – you might end up being too late sometimes.

BE KIND TO OTHERS

Everyone’s got a lot on their shoulders – be that in their backpacks or on their mind. Show some compassion and hold the door open for the person walking behind you. Let go when they reach it so they can go through and, hopefully, pay the favor forward. Stand there too long and you run the risk of being the village bellhop.

Set the example and be kind, don’t let the world take advantage of your kindness.

DUST YOUR SHOULDER OFF

Finals week proved life can be cruel, what with seeing fellow students write last minute 10-page papers, hold all-night study sessions and take up to three finals in a row. Don’t let it keep you down: smile. They’re the strongest weapons in your arsenal with your tousled hair being the most destructive.

Consider this the next time life throws at you one of its souring curve balls at you. You’ll find rare is the instance that calls for disapproval unless broken hearts are involved.

Even then all you might need is a lawyer to help you make a clean cut.
Your Summer Storage Solution.

- no long-term lease required
- no deposit required
- units available in 5'x5' to 10'x30'
- 24-hour video surveillance
- open 7 days a week
- locks, boxes and moving supplies
- free moving truck rental*

Call TODAY and ask about our student discounts.
305-388-8836

*Some restrictions apply.

305-388-8836
www.storsafeselfstorage.com

10345 Hammocks Blvd, Miami
www.storsafeselfstorage.com
We can help. FIU Student Media offers different com to find out more information.

NEED TO ADVERTISE - V

Andres Michael Urbom
Jucel Gabriela Mena
Joseph M. Marcus
Gretter Juliachs
Claudia Casalis
Kelly Paige Glass
Neville O. Gayle
Priscilla Ferrufi no
Lianett Fernandez
Alana Nicole Edun
Tiffany Marie Cruz
Bobby J. Bracy
Felicia Lynn Bahadue
Carlos Alberto Babich
Justin Arias
Eric Sanchez
Laura Pazos
Jennifer Elizabeth Pardo
Roger Morales
Shane David McCoy
Yunelis Vera
Nicole V . Vascianna
Jathea A. Wright
Karina L. Windecher
Yunelis Vera
Nicole Marie Bennett
Crystal B. Billin
Rhonda Denise Bowen
Erik C. Baker
Jenny Crespo
Shirley Campos
Cassandra Martinez
Christopher S. Curassa
Colleen M. Carpenter
Juliana Castellanos
Syrria Catherine Kazee
Alexander Clay
Tyler Dave Clawson
Hector Concepcion
Michael Anthony Crocker
Beatrice M. Cottos
Evelyn Delara
Priscilla Michele Demarais
Daylen Docampo Perez
Ramon Albert Dominguez
Maria Nicola DiAciocca
Shirley Espinosa
Laura E. Fernandez
Siselle J. Fuentes
Jacqueline P. Francis
Juan Carlos Fuentes
Michael Anthony Garcia
Rosa V. Garcia
Frank Gil
Nadine Gilles
Javier Antonio Gomez
David E. Perez
Macy C. Gonzalez
Alegra M. Greer
Michael Anthony Golberg
Gustavo M. Gonzalez
Brian G. Galvez
Monica Beatriz Cotto
Michael Anthony Cordova
Hecter Concepcion
Sylli Ann Thomas
Join the Class of Leaders in Information Technology

Nova Southeastern University’s Graduate School of Computer and Information Sciences programs of distinction will prepare you for leadership roles in information technology without interrupting your career. Our comprehensive M.S. and Ph.D. programs, distinguished faculty, and convenient online and on-campus formats provide a combination of advantages only found here. Our graduates continue to incorporate what they learn at major organizations such as Boeing, Cisco, Citrix, FBI, IBM, Microsoft, MIT, Motorola, Sun Microsystems, and many more.

- Computer Science
- Educational Technology
- Information Security
- Information Systems
- Information Technology

Nova Southeastern University Graduate School of Computer and Information Sciences
Congratulations Graduate! A Special Graduation Auto Loan Just for you!

Ask at your on-campus branch or call 786.450.2000

www.myunicoop.com for details *credit criteria applies

CONGRATULATIONS!

To the FIU College of Law Class of 2009

From the Faculty, Administration and Staff

May 22, 2009 * 11:00 A.M. * FIU Campus Pavilion

Celebrating our newest lawyers
ATTENTION ALL 2009 GRADUATES

We commend you for your achievement and provide the following:

- College of Engineering and Computing
  - Bachelor of Arts in Information Technology
  - Bachelor of Science in Biomedical Engineering
  - Bachelor of Science in Computer Science
  - Bachelor of Science in Construction Management
  - Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering

- Masters of Science in Recreation and Sport Management
- Robert C. Carmona
- Tarryn Marie Mello
- Irin Design
- Jennifer R. Portera
- Beaniis M. Reynolds

- Master of Science in Special Education
- Christina Avila
- Aylenne Fraiz
- Nicole D. Gilliam
- Hannah F. Szygowiecki
- Katherine Ann Sid

- Educational Specialist in Educational Leadership
- Lori Michelle Fernandez
- Carmen Nieto Jardon
- Hennet Ortiz
- Juan C. Ramirez
- Nancy Louise Wiener
- Helen Yaner

- Educational Specialist in School Psychology
- Ellen Aguilera
- Jennifer Alvarez
- Christina Francesca Falcon
- Monica Gutierrez
- Daniel Llanos
- Kristin Marie Machado
- Azahed Oroszpalup
- Patricia Ortigo
- Wanny Esperanza Paz
- Doris Pratt

- Doctor of Education in Adult Education and Human Resources Development

- Nella Ana Roberts
- Doctor of Education in Curriculum and Instruction
- Antonietta M. DiGirolamo
- Amy C. Lora

- Doctor of Education in Educational Administration Supervision
- Larri Joseph Moss

- Doctor of Education in Higher Education
- Timothy Besler
- Derek W. Doyle
- Domingo E. Echevarria

- Master of Science in Information Technology
- Gregory J. Frenschack
- Laura Hufnagel-Cross
- Diane Mitchell Little
- Veronica Lynn Owles
- Emanuel Russo Barbone
- Valerie Smith Pethybridge

- Master of Science in Nursing
- Claudia Amorin
- Guillermo Jordarris
- Brian Douglas Doey
- Michael S. Krall

- Master of Science in Rehabilitation Counseling
- Patricia W. Decker
- Brian J. Ramey

- Master of Science in Special Education
- Christina Anthony
- Kevin B. Rechtold
- Lizeth Joann Caladera
- Donny Carvajal

- Master of Science in Strategic Management
- Anne M. Blackwell
- Thomas R. Spear

- Master of Science in Technology Management
- Chandra C. Moseley

- Master of Science in Urban Education
- William W. Williams

- Master of Science in Water Resources Management

--info@suny.edu: 518-438-3005

- www.fiusm.com
The strength to heal and learn lessons in courage.

The pride you'll feel in being a doctor increases dramatically when you care for our soldiers and their families. Courage is contagious. Our Health Professions Scholarship Program (HPSP) helps you reach your goal by providing full tuition, money towards books and lab fees, a $20,000 sign-on bonus, plus a monthly stipend of more than $1,900.

To learn more about the U.S. Army Healthcare Team, call CPT David Moore at 877-266-0088, email david.moore5@usarec.army.mil, or visit healthcare.goarmy.com/info/nchpssp.

©2008 Published by the United States Army. All rights reserved.